MUST BE STOPPING AT THE WEST HOUSE

It Is Announced That He Is Seriously Ill-The Two Houses Wrestle with the Revised Constitution.

Minneapolis, Minn., October 11 .- The shadow of the disturbed spirit brought into the missionary meeting last night enveloped the Episcopal house of deputies today. Little else was talked of prior to the morning assembling and after the recession at noon and in the evening.

The bitter attack of Bishop Neely on the administration of church affairs in Alaska, his showing of the fact that for an expenditure of $12,000 per annum for years past there was practically nothing to show; insinuation that there was something behind the latest movement to elect a bishop of Alaska, his outspoken denunciation by name of the present Alaskan missionaries, taken in connection with the trenchant and heated retorts of bishops, priests and secular delegates, some of shom were forced to admit the substantial accuracy of the facts submitted by the venerable bishop, but deprecating their exposure to the public eye-all combined to create an episode unprecendented in the general conventions of the last century, the effects of which in various executive and other branches of the church will be felt for years to come. The deputies generally-even those disposed to side with the bishop-deplored the episode, and the feeling was made manifest immediately after morning prayer through a resolution submitted by George C. Thomas, of Philadelphia, providing that the board of missions continue its discussion of Alaskan questions with closed doors. This was lost. Both houses spent the day upon the revised constitution. A resolution was submitted calling for the full report of the ttee on revision Monday, which brought out the statement from Dean man, the spokesman of the committee on the floor that the body did not expect

The second section passed as it came from the bishops, and the clause providing that the presiding officer of the house of bishops shall be senior in service, was agan put through by a large majority.

After this an additional veto was given to the unfortunate word "primate," and the question of rights to be given delegates from missionary jurisdiction came up gates from missionary jurisdiction came up for the second time within an hour. Many of the delegates were visibly disgusted with this state of affairs, but under the rules which provide for consideration of clause by clause of the bishops' revision clause by clause of the bishops' revision, there was no help for it. Another effort was made to give the missionary delegates right to have their votes counted in ballots, by dioceses, but it was defeated. Further consideration of the bishops' revision was referred until Monday.

Their Great Mistake. The upper house sent down the report of littee of conference concerning the place of holding the next convention and recommending that Washington, D. C., he selected. The house concurred by unantvote and then adjourned. The bishops today followed the example of the lower house by laying on the table the solemn declaration of faith, which ed as a preface to the revised constitution. In opposition to the report of a spe-cial committee it was decided to elect a report says: "We favor the adoption of a road by which all the classes shall bear the burden of taxation for road purposes in pro-portion to the benefits derived; by which state aid will be extended to the improvement of the main roads under equitable conditions; by which the counties shall be allowed to issue bonds for the per-manent improvement of the public roads under proper conditions and restrictions; by which both state and county convicts will be employed in improving the public roads; by which the road work will be placed under control of the boards of supervisors, or of special road boards of the respective counties and by which the actual supervision of the road work will be entrusted to county engineers, thus con-necting the authority and responsibility and insuring intelligent supervision." The report then recommends in detail a state tax of 5 per cent on the $100 valuation of real and personal property for a state road fund; that a similar amount be appointed by the supervisors of each coun-ty for permanent road improvement; that a state highway commission be appointed by the governor, and that the present laws in regard to graduates in engineering edu-cation, at the state's expense, be amendprovides that one clerical and one lay dele-gate chosen by each missionary district shall have seats in the house without the county engineers for two years when em-ployed by the board of supervisors, in-stead of teaching for two years.

TYPHOID FEVER IN WASHINGTON Twenty-Five Deaths from the Disease

During the Week. Washington, October 11.-The health officer of Washington says that the epidemic of typhoid fever exists in this city and that unless sanitary precautions are served by the inhabitants generally a serious condition of affairs will follow. Health Officer Woodward estimates that at least six hundred cases are under treatment in the district today. In the first four days of this week eleven deaths were reported and he has no doubt that some deaths reported as due to kindred complaints really resulted from typhoid.

For the week ended September 7th there were twenty-one deaths. New York city, with seven times the population of Washington, reported only seventeen typhoid deaths for the same period, and most of the citles of the size of Washington reported not more than two or three deaths,

He was at the time of the crime a fugitive from justice, having committed an outrage upon a married lady in Bedford county, Virginia. He admitted to having served five years in the Virginia penitentiary for train wrecking. Only a short time ago he attempted to murder a well known man in Virginia. A WARM RECEPTION IN HOT SPRINGS

Clarke Promises To Make It Interesting for the Sluggers if They Show Up on His Side of the Line.

San Antonio Tex., October 11.-Private advices were received here from Austin today that the Travis county grand jury would return an indictment against Corbett and Fitzsimmons. Immediately upon receiving this information Manager Brady decided to get Corbett out of the state as soon as possible so as to place him out of reach of the Texas authorities. Brady left for Hot Springs tonight, where he will ascertain for himself whether or not the fight can be pulled off there, and if he finds that it can, he will secure training quarters for the champion, and the entire party will be removed to the new battle ground within the next few days. Corbett was very despondent over the outlook today. The unlooked-for opposition of Governor Clark makes it very doubtful whether the fight can be pulled off at Hot Springs.

The champion said this evening: the report of the assassination as too absurd to be noticed. "Fitzsimmons is preparing to get out of the state to evade the possibility of arrest and I do not want to remain here and be placed in the clutches of the law while he goes free. I am tired of this persistent persecution on the part of Governor Culberson, and it is probable that I will remove my training quarters to Hot Springs with-in the next few days. This is a splendid training place, and I shall regret to leave.' Steve O'Donnell, who is matched to fight Peter Maher, is confined to his bed with sickness. > Hot Springs Wants Them. Hot Springs, Ark., October 11.—Circuit Judge A. M. Duffie called the sheriff before him today and informed him that it was the sheriff's duty to take proper measures to prevent the Corbett-Fitzsimmons contest from taking place in Garland county, and advised him of his powers in the premises. When the sheriff asked when and just how he should proceed to do this, the judge failed to instruct him, saying he would consult with the prosecuting attorney and advise him later.
> This talk of Judge Duffie seems to have had no perceptible effect on the people most interested, and no importance is attached to it. There is so little, indeed, that the local correspondents, who understand the true inwardness of things here, did not deem it sufficiently important to exploft it in the metropolitan press; as it would have a tendency to create unnecessary alarm among people who do not appreciate the local conditions. There is no apprehension locally that anything radical will

NOT ON GOVERNMENT LANDS Will the Corbett-Fitzsimmons Fight Be Allowed To Take Place.

Washington, October 11.-If any attemp is made to occupy any government land for the Corbett-Fitzsiamons fight, Secretary Smith will instruct the government authorities about Hot Springs to prevent the fight taking place. The secretary said today that he would grant no permit for the fight, and if any lessees of government lands granted permission to the manager of the fight to have it take place on their land his lease would be speedily revoked.

The Indian bureau was in receipt of a telegram today from Chief Perryman, of the Creek Nation, asking permission to have boxing and other athletic sports in the nation. Indian bureau officials were puzzled about the telegram, owing to ent events in that country and telegraphed Agent Wilson, at Muscogee, in Indian Territory, to ascertain the purport of it. He replied that the request of Chief Perryman was in regard to the Corbett-Fitzsimmons affair and that under instructions from the interior department he had taken steps to prevent the fight on any of the lands of the five civilized tribes.

PARKHURST DISAPPOINTED,

But He Will Support Part of the L'usion Ticket.

New York, October 11 .- Dr. Parkhurst is sued a statement this evening regarding the present situation in this city in which he says he is sadly disappointed with the out-come of the efforts that have been made at fusion, but he will, nevertheless, support part of the ticket. He says in part:
"Excellent, surprisingly excellent is the fusion ticket in certain portions of its sonnel. No one who has been for any considerable time a resident in this city can examine the ticket without instantly dis-covering that the influences largely operative in its construction were distinctively indifferent to, not to say antagonistic to all that makes for the best interests of the city as generally interpreted.

"Personally, I prize the present situation as an eloquent object lesson of the debasing efforts of having the city's interests safeguarded by men who, whether as republicans or as democrats, look upon posi-tions of municipal trusts only as legitimate game with which to stock the political larder. I do not like to seem presumptious, but I venture to think that we should be in better plight today if after having discovered the dickering propensities of the partisan conferees the subcommittee of five has stood up in their dignity and self-respect and said: Gentlemen, there is no wisdom in our doubting these matters unless we can meet one another on a broad and generous platform and consult together with an eye that is single to the exigencies of this city. Some of you are purchaseable by a judge-Some of you are purchaseable by a judge-sh!p; some of you by a city clerkship; some of you estimate your tender devotion to this city in terms of Sunday beer. We are not in a dickering business, our preference is to deal with men who do not want to go around tagged with a cost mark. You must excuse us from further attempt at medita-ion platform, and though I shall not neg-lect to scratch one or more names on the fusion ticket, yet that fact is no scabbard into which I shall trust my sword that is already red with the tiger's blood."

Sympathy Meetings. Washington, October 11.—inquiries by mail and telegram have been received in considerable numbers of late at the department of justice as to whether it is in violation of the laws of the United States for American citizens to express sympathy for the Cuban insurgents in public meetings and to aid in fitting out expeditions to assist them. One of the most recent if from Mr. Watkins, of Albany, N. Y. In reply to it Attorney General Harmon has sent the following letter, which repre-sents the views of the administration on State street, Albany, N. Y. Dear Sir: For some reason your letter of September 26th did not reach me until today. I hasten to reply that the organization of military force of any sort in the United States in aid of the insurrection in Cuba would be in direct violation of section 6286 of the Revised Statues of the United States, which provides for a fine not exceeding $3,000 and imprisonment not more than three years for every person who in any way takes part in such expedition or enterprise to be carried on against any province, state, etc., with whom the United States are at peace.

"As the United States are not only at peace with Spain, but have with her a treaty whereby the extradition of prisoners and many other benefits are secured, it behooves all American citizens who have respect for the laws and obligations of their country and regard for its honor, to observe this law in spirit as well as in deed.

Birmingham, Ala., October 11.—(Special.) Deputy Sheriff V. A. Fuller, of Cullman

very damaging circumstantial evidence against Oden.

There are about a dozen of the negroes yet left at the Champion mines who came from Mexico under the guidance of an agent of J. W. Worthington & Co. in the lot that was brought back there were between 100 and 150 negroes, and it was thought that they might be induced to work out their transportation, but in this the men who brought them back have found out to their sorrow that the negroes have no gratitude for the trouble and kindness displayed.

After reaching Champion they began scattering, one by one, family by family, until today there are no more than a dozen remaining at the works.

This morning another family of the negroes came down on the Oneonta accommodation train. They were seen, and said they were going back to their old home. They boldly say they do not care to work, and won't until they reach their old homes in Tuscaloosa and Greene counties. BETTER TONE IN THE SOUTH

The Effect of the Exposition Is Felt Far and Wide.

THE WHEAT EXPORTS CONTINUE WEAK

Pig Iron Shows Weakness, Too-Many Dealers Overstocked Themselves When Markets Advanced.

New York, October 11 .- Bradstreet's tomorrow, October 12th, will say:

"Cooler weather has stimulated a seaconable day for staple dry goods, millinery and clothing and jobbers in these lines in all parts of the country feel the improve-ment. Relatively the most gain has been made at the south, where an improvement is reported in almost all lines. Interior merchants are placing more liberal or-ders than for several years and larger distributing centers report sales of goods to the cotton beit and collections therefrom exceptionally free. The unfavorable features are found in disappointment at the moderation with which wheat is exported from week to week, the reported weakness in pig iron and steel billets, and in the competition suffered by domestic woolen manufac-turers from abroad.

"But an explanation of these conditions indicates that if representations of the size of the wheat crop and of wheat stocks carried over be accepted, average weekly exports from this country, if kept up to the end of the crop, will exhaust the amount of wheat available for shipment

"The total number of business failures throughout the United States number 263 this week against 244 last week, 238 in the week a year ago, 406 two years ago and 191 in 1892. More encouraging business features are found in the continued advance in the price of cotton which, in turn has put up prices of several varieties of cotton goods and in the prospect for the maintenance of these rates, which with freer movement of cotton at the south, are having a very favorable influence of ness in that portion of the country.

Dun & Co.'s Review. R. G. Dun & Co., in their weekly review of trade tomorrow, will say:
"The price barometer gives indications that are not entirely favorable. Cotton goods go up with increasing evidence that the crop of cotton is short. Prices of other manufactured products of wool, hides and leather all show some decline, a general abatement in new orders being the prin-cipal cause. With an immense volume of business, not much exceeded in the larg-est month of the exceptional year 1892, and with evide nce that in several important branches the volume has surpassed that of any previous year, there is a growing uncertainty about the near future of industries. Money markets are neither strained nor threatening, foreign exchange no longer raises apprehension, and all fears about the great northern crops are past. There have been few advances in wages of labor within the past month, and only a few works have been closed and only a few works have been closed by strikes for an advance.

"The main cause of decreased orders has been repeatedly pointed out by this journal during the past half year. When business began to revive a million traders were in haste to order, not only the goods each expected to sell within a given time, but enough more to replenish stocks which had been cut down almost to bare shelves by two years of prostration. Thus the buying was much in excess of real conprices rose, many hastened to buy in advance of visible needs, hoping that every purchase would mean a gain, while mul-titudes hurried to get in their orders before competitors could buy as cheaply. such conditions buying continued for six months and still continues in cotton goods, But in most manufactured products buying for the same reason can no longer be expected and the steady and regular consumption is not yet known. "In woolen manufactures a demand for dress goods and some specialties keeps many fully employed, but most of the works making men's woolens, for which new orders are scanty, find not enough to keep them running. To pile up advance, wholly in the dark as foreign competition involves such risk that some concerns may close for a time.

"It is too early for cotton movements to cast much light on the probable yield. Port receipts thus far are 23 per cent naller than last year. But this does not indicate as small a crop as many fear, in view of the known lateness of picking Widely circulated advices to hold back cotton have some influence also. At present prices, averaging 8½ cents in southern markets, against 5% cents a year ago, 7,000,000 bales would bring $13,000,000 more than 9,900,000 bales brought last year. Some months ago Dun's review predicted that 3,000,000 bales of American cotton would be carried over and was much criticised by some Mr. Ellison, the final European au-thority, shows that 2,977,000 bales were held September 1st in ports and at mills here 'Failures for the week have included two banks and several concerns of some size, and have been 268 in the United States against 231 last year and 52 in Canada

Alabamians Spend a Day Most Gloriously at the Exposition.

THEIR DAY A BIG SUCCESS

Entertaining Exercises Held in the Auditorium in the Morning.

SPEECHES BY GOV. OATES AND GEN. RHODES

The Alabama Building Formally Declared Open by Governor Oates. How the Day Was Spent.

It was Alabama day!

That was the feature of the exposition resterday and hundreds of people from that good old state, grand in its traditions marvelous and rich in its mineral and agricultural resources, were there to mingle with the crowds, to participate in and witness the Alabama ceremonies, and "do" the big show in its entirety. It might be said that the Alabamians wned the exposition, for they certainly had full sway and passed a most enjoyable lay, finding things innumerable to interest. o amuse and to instruct. Governor William C. Oates, accompanied by a number of his staff, several state fficers, besides many other representative citizens, were prominent among the visitors from the sister state to give to the occasion a distinction commensurate with the importance of the day.

The chief feature that marked Alabama day was the formal opening of the Alana state building and transfer of it to the exposition Eminently appropriate ceremonies attended the occasion. The exercises began about 11 o'clock in the auditorium, shortly after Governor Oates arrived at the inds. The auditorium was well filled chiefly with Alahamians There was a fair sprinking of ladies present interjecting a zest that was pleasing. Distinguished Alabamians Present.

Sitting on the stage were the tol lowing gentlemen: Governor William C. Oates, Hon. Rufus N. Rhodes, editor of The Birmingham News; Hector D. Lane, commissioner of agriculture of Alabama; H. E. Jones, adjutant general; Colonel R. L. Holt, quartermaster general and rail. road commissioners; Colonel Peyton B. Bibb, inspector general; Captain Pau Sanguinneti, ordinance officer: Colonels S. L. Crook and A. H. Stevens, also of the governor's staff; Major W. L. Vaiden, private secretary to the governor: Colonel rchibald Henderson, N. F. Thompson, of the Alabama exhibit; Tracey Pratt, Hon. Porter King, mayor of Atlanta: C. A. Collier, president of the exposition, and C. J. Haden, president of the Alabama Club in Atlanta.

The Ceremonies.

On account of the absence of Mr. W Jamison, president of the Alabama Commercial Association, who was unavoidably vented from being here, Hon. Rufus N. Rhodes was called upon to preside. He appreciation in a fitting manner. A Cordial Welcome.

He then introduced Hon. Porter King, mayor of Atlanta, who extended a cordial welcome to the citizens of his native state behalf of Atlanta:

Mayor King Welcomes Alabama "Mr. President, ladies and gentlemen: As the official representative of the city of

'Atlanta, I bid you welcome within he visited this city within the last few weeks and those who will come within the approaching months, it is to me a matter of peculiar pleasure and gratification to welcome the people of the state of Ala-bama. It was in that state that my sainter first saw the light of day, and too, claim it as my native home. he grew up to manhood's estate, and knew and loved the good people of old Alabama, who, in return, loved and honored him.

I shall ever most gratefully appreciate the memory of the kindness and many acts of confidence and esteem shown him return, loved and honored him by the older citizens of that good old state. The friends of my boyhood, my school-day friends, and the men whom I knew when growing up to manhood's estate, are now, in a large measure, conducting the affairs of Alabama. A few days ago I had the pleasure of seeing and being with the honored president of your sen-ate, Mr. Francis L. Pettus, the son of one of the most distinguished men in the state. The speaker of your house of representatives, Hon. Thomas Clark, of Montgomery, was a school day friend of mine and a former president of the senate. Hon. Ciem C. Shorter was likewise a boyhood friend of my own. I shall ever love the state in which I was born, and among whose people I have had so many friends and so many pleasant acquaintances. How can I help loving old Alabama, with hel blue mountains kissing the skies, her broad plains and her wave-washed coast on the south. To make but a slight change in the immortal verse of Alabama's Poet-

Priest I would say: "Land of Alabama, Imperial land, How proud their mountains rise, How rich thy scenes on every hand, Yet not for this, oh! not for these, I love thy fields to roam, Thou hast a nearer, dearer spell for me

Thou art my my own, my native home.

Alabama's Proud History. "How proud is the history of the stat of Alabama. I shall only refer to the pui lic men of the day that was within my ow knowledge. Her executive seat has be filled by a George S. Houston, a Reube W. Kolb, an Edward A. O'Neil, a Thomas Seay, a Thomas G. Jones and your own present broad-minded and lion-hearted governor, William C. Oates. It was he who lost his own right arm in defense of th cause which he believed to be right, and I dare say today, if need be, he would be willing to sacrifice even his life for the government should occasion require, which he was then resisting; so loyal are now the pople of your state to this great un-

'Among the judiciary, who has more fame throughout the length and breadth of this , than your own Chief Justice Rob-Brickell, and among his compeers at the time when I had the honor of appearing at that bar, were the distinguished learned and tender hearted George E Stone and Justice Manning, of Mobile Her lawyers, I think, without invidious listinction, I may say, were headed in those days by the late lamented Wm. M. Brooks, the living E. W. Pettus and the ever glorious Thomas H. Watts.

"Among the journalists of that day, there among those standing they believed to be for what the state. such as the Hon. W. W. Screws, now of the Montgomery Advertiser; the Hon. Rufus N. Rhodes, of Birmingham; Mr. Glass, then of Selma, now of Birmingham; Mr. Williams, of Talladega, and a whole host of able and unequalled representatives of the press. "I welcome you, my friends, one and all, to this goodly city of Atlanta. I may say to you that Georgians have been kind to the Alabamians who have come to cast their lot among them. I am, my-self, a living illustration of the fact that when a stranger comes to Atlanta he rewhen a stranger comes to Atlanta he re-ceives a cordial welcome, and has to but prove himself worthy to receive at the hands of these people the kindest reception and the highest honors that they can bestow. Alabamians in Georgia.

"Atlanta is indebted to Alabama for many of her best citizens. She has given to us, in the pulpit, a J. B. Hawthorne at the bar, a Henry B. Tompkins, a Jame A. Anderson, a Charles A. Hayaen, a Rob ert A. Alston and a Wharton O. Wilson. She has given to us in the medical profession a Semmes, a distinguished relative of the immortal Raphael Semmes, who has forever covered with glory the name tha he bears: a Bizzell, a Willett and an Arn old. Among the mercantile profession she has given to us those twin brothers of success, A. D. and G. B. Adair, and a younger, but equally progressive family in the Law brothers. I especially an particularly love these men, because of the county from which they came; the mour tain county of Talladega. Its name i musical, rythmical and sweet: its men ar noble and true. From there came one wh is regarded by many as among the brain en today in the United States ser ate, John T. Morgan; and its women, God bless them, are surely the equals, if not the superiors of any on earth. I have shown my faith in the truthfulness of that sentiment by going there to select the woman who is the mother of my children and the partner of my life.

Proud of Alabama's Past. "Alabamians, one and all, come, and wel-come! The best that Atlanta has is yours. We are proud of the magnificent puilding which you have erected and the splendid exhibits there shown. We recognize the individual thrift and progress and determination that lies back of the erection of building and the making of this exhibit, for we know that under the con struction placed upon your state constitution as a state, no appropriation could b made. It is to the glorious people of Ala-bama, through their individual efforts, through the aid of the press, ever mighty for the accomplishment of a good purpose, backed up especially by the people of Bir-mingham and the people of Mobile that the exhibit is now shown which speaks so well for the old state of Alabama. Georgia and Alabama will join hands in the honora Georgia ble progress of the southern states in this age. You have set an example even to the Empire state of the south in the encouragement you have given to manufact tures and the development of the mineral resources of your state. We hail you with pleasure, we pledge you co-operation in southern development and southern growth and I again say, come, and welcome to the city of Atlanta!' Hon. H. D. Lane Responds. The commissioner of agriculture of Alabama, Hector D. Lane, manager of the Alabama exhibit, then responded on behalf of the state board of managers. always with a degree of pleas ' said Mr. Line, "that I meet with people from Alabama. I am proud of an occasion when I can address Alabamans. It speaks well for our state to have a boy from our black belt—one of our citizens— selected as chief executive of this, the greatest city in the south. I am proud that I can call Alabama my home—that I was born in the hills of the north, where men are tall and stalwart and whose wo-men : beautiful and distinguished. This state is only surpassed by my pride in America. Outsde of being an Alabamian, I am glad to shake hands with Georgians. My father migrated from Oglethorpe to Alabama with a cotton of the kindness and many dence and esteem shown him shirt, a coon dog and a stone bruise each heel; also a Bible, an ax and a r was one of the pioneers. In his Bible he found spiritual consolation; wth the ax he cut his way into the forest, and by means of the rifle he protected us against the wild beasts and sustained us with substantial food. I am proud I came from that race of rugged people whose loyalty to principal and fealty to government stand out pre-eminently in the history of our country. The Clays and Houstons and others, including our present chief execu-tive, are of that stock about whose greatness is a halo of glory.

"In my youth I was inspired by the brave acts of Governor Oates in the civil strife. Since my maturity I have admired him for his honesty, integrity and courage to act and speak his manly convictions. "Alabama has been like a store of merchandise with closed doors. We have not shown what we have over there.

"I thank you for your kind consideration and close by inviting you all to the Alabama building to see our great display." A Happy Greeting.

Mr. C. J. Haden, president of the Ala-bama Club, of Atlanta, enlivened the exercises with a characteristically humorous said Mr. Haden, "is but one "There," man more fortunate than the Alabamian who moved to and settled in Atlanta, and that is the Alabamian who remained in Alabama. In testimony whereof I tender in evidence the contrast between my discinguished friend, General Rhodes, and Colmel —; modesty forbids that I utter he pronoun. Your great Cassar, feeding upon the abundant harvests of the old omestead, stands forth a splendid specimen of well-rounded manhood, while I, innaling the pure, but not over nutrious air of Georgia's crimson hills, reaffirm in my personality the error of the prodigal son.

"But, among the rolling stones who have stemmed the tide of empire's westward course and staked their fortunes upon Atlanta there is one who has been eminently successful. I speak of him now because he is here and can defend himself. Not content with a speedily swelling reputation at bar and bank he listened to the political siren and, as usual, won. His public career has been peculiarly phenomenal, not wholly unlike the proverbial church fair—so easy to get in and so hard to get out He was called to the mayoralty by popular acclamation and crowned at Westminster abbey with great pomo, but alas, he had no enemies; they were all friends. Astute statesmen like those around me here foresee the story. Tammany and anti-Tammany now sound the tocsin and whet the tomahawk and clamor for his scalp from every campaign rifle pit from Pitts-burg to Tight Squeeze,' than which no greater compliment could be paid him. His dilemma recalls Governor Bob Taylor's story of the habitual drunkard, whose vice had often brought him to delirium tremens. One night the boys tied a monkey to the footboard of the drunkard's bed while he slept. Awaking late in the night he saw in the pale light of the moon the outline of the animal on the foot of his bed. After rubbing his eyes to clear away doubts, ter rubbing his eyes to clear away doubts, the drunkard calmly reached under his pillow and drew a 44-calibre edition of Smith & Wesson's great work on 'How to Ventilate the Human Body,' and pointing it at the shadowy figure on the footboard, solemnly said: 'Now, look here, if you are a monkey you are in a h-l of a fix but if monkey you are in a h-l of a fix; but if you hain't no monkey, then I am in a h-l of a fix.' I feel safe in saying that the distinguished mayor of Atlanta will not again monkey with politics unless it be for governor or something higher." Concluding, Mr. Had no prophet nor the son of a prophet to fore-tell that within the life of the present generation Alabama will be the first many uring state of the union. Looking a few years forward and within the near horizon of this decade we can foresee the grander prosperity which you will enjoy when the opening of the maritime canal shall have brought your ports and products 10,000 miles nearer to 700,000,000 pe when your iron and coal and cotton cruise across the vast western ocean and the white wings of your ships shall dot the ports of Valpariso, of Sidney, of Hong Kong, of Yeddo and of Vancouvers.

"On behalf of the Alabamians resident in Atlanta we extend to you our sinceres welcome and offer you warm hearts and warm hearths. The latchstring of our doors hang on the outerside.

"Our mayor is from Alabama, our city attorney is from Alabama, our police judge grew up with the west winds from across the Chattahoochee bathing his brow, and policemen! God alone knows how many o worst comes to the worst you are still in the hands of your friends.

A Musical Number with an Incident Mr. Schonert, a virtuoso of distinction from New York, then rendered a piano solo-a medley.

At this juncture Mayor King escorted Attorney General William C. Fitts, of Alahama, to the stage. Mr. Fitts is almost an exact counterpart of Mayor King and the audience immediately realized the remarkable similarity in build, expression and general appearance and cheered the two distinguished dromtos.

An Alabama Editor. Everybody in Alabama knows Hon. Rufus

N. Rhodes, editor of The Birmingham Mr. Rhodes, on behalf of the Alabama Commercial Association, in a characteristic speech responded to the cordial welcome accorded the Alabamians and formally presented the Alabama exhibit to Governor

Alabama exhibit and how it was gradually evolved by the hard work and energy o those in the state who had co-operated with the commercial bodies of Alabama to bring about a display that would do credit both to the state and those who made it. He paid them a high compli-ment for such a successful showing. He then pictured in glowing terms the grand meht which Atlanta had made i the big exposition which represented the pluck, energy and thrift of her citizens He characterized the industry as a mon ment, not only to Atlanta, but to the en-ire south. The good results that will be bound to follow in its wake, he thought, would be incalculable; the develop of southern resources immeasurable. He was glad that so many Alabamians had ome to see the exposition and was satis fied that they would find enough to study on for the next few years.

The State's Nightingale. The presiding officer then introduced Miss Nellie Knight, daughter of Mr. Ray Knight, of Anniston, who enjoys the distinction o being Alabama's nightingale. Miss Knightingale. Miss Knightingale. Was escorted to the stage by Mr. Ross ( Smith, railroad commissioner of Alabama and Dr. D. S. Arnold, of this city. He presence was the signal for applause. She sang "Cavitina," by Gounod. She gave "S'wanee River" as an encore.

Governor Oates's Oration.

The governor prefaced his remarks with the statement that it had always been the custom at feasts to serve the best things last, but that President Rhodes had injected the best in the middle of the programme—referring to the musical num-bers which the governor enjoyed especially. "I want to explain why Alabama's exhibit is not greater and more creditable. In my message to the state legislature I recommended an appropriation for a suitable exhibit here, but the legislature did not see fit to make the appropriation. Our legislature is not as progressive, possibly, as Georgia's. It seems to have labored under the difficulty of not properly understanding and appreciating the need of ex hibiting the state's resources and the evi dent results to accrue therefrom. An evidence of that legislature's idea of economy is found in the attempts to reduce salarles and abolish offices. This contingent of extremists cannot conceive of the in portance of showing the state's resources and what grand results it will lead to. I have sought to impress the fact upon their minds that Alabama has more refor the number square miles than anyother

There was only one way by which the state could give assistance-by the use of the money from the agricultural department. It can be seen how difficult it was to get perfect action. On that account our display is not as comprehensive as it should be. However, it is a splendid exhibit, considering the circumstances. Had there been a sufficient appropriation it would have done better justice to our great resources. I hope hereafter there will be a better appreciation of our resources, which will result in the elevation of our of development. of our state to a higher plane "No exposition in the south has ever achieved the grand success as this one of Atlanta. It is far beyond the expectation of us all. The resources of Georgia, whatever they may lack in richness of material and soil are fully compensated for in advantages of intelligence and energy. "It would have been better to have had

Alabama day later in the month. farmers are now busy gathering and mar keting their crops, and could not be here today. I had hoped to get some of our by the beauty and excellency of our ladiesbut did not have sufficient time

"I notice a large number of the Alabama press here and I want to say a few words to them. There is no means so potent for the infusion into our people, especially legislative and official classes, of a spirit to ise all their energies in furtherance and development of our interests than th There is no power so great as that wielded by the newspapers. Upon them depend a great responsibility. There may be political differences, but let me have been trying for a long time to shape the policy and to run the federal govern one way. We can't do it, excep through diplomacy. 'The tail can't wag the dog.' We cannot have our own way Differ as you may, aim at one thing-the elevation of your people-frown on section alism. Exercise charity towards those who differ with you honestly. Every journalist should strive to give character and individuality to his paper. The press would then become more powerful and useful, and those who wield the pen would command greater respect. The intemperate use of the pen and the bloody results are seen alnost every day.

"I have studied the course of develop ment and prosperity, not only of Alabama but the south. We have had panics and depression and hard times and have learned lessons of economy. I predict several years of prosperity to come. The good wave has struck the south, and Alabama is going to enjoy greater prosperity than ever history."

in 1892, what a financial ordeal the country passed through and how it affected the south especially. In strong contrast he presented another picture showing how the wave of the present prosperity has brought-plenty and happiness to the people.

President Collier's Response. In intrdoucing President Collier Mr. Rhodes said that since Atlanta was the synonym of the south, and the exposit a dare-devil against adversity, the people of the city who have achieved such a grand success were synonyms of pluck, energy and industry, and he wanted to introduce one of the representative types of the place. He then introduced President Collier.

President Collier made a happy speech congratulating the Alabamians and accepting the building on behalf of the exposition.

This ended the ceremonies, and the Alabamians dispersed and took in the exposition. In the afternoon they assembled at the Alabama building and were ever-They Have Been Taking in Several

The History of the Alabama Exhibit. Something over a year ago President Collier and a special committee of the exposition went down to Montgomery and presented to the state legislature the plan of the exposition and urged that body to take the matter in hand and appropriate funds to have a building and a display commensurate with the importance of Alabama. Shortly after this Governor Oates, in a message to the legislature, recommended an appropriation to carry out the plan suggested. After some argument the recom nendation was voted down on the ground of economy. Subsequently a meeting of all the commercial bodies in the state was held in Birmingham, organized into a grand body known as the Commercial Association of Alabama and set afoot the movement to get up a display for the exposition. The following board was elected to take the matter in hand and work it up successfully: Frank Y. Anderson, chairman, Birmingham; T. W. Pratt, Huntsville; Mr. Banner, Mobile, H. C. Davidson, Mont-gomery, and Hector D. Lane. The latter was elected general manager of the display. Various cities pledged themselves for cer-tain amounts. By effort and energy the exhibit soon became tangible. Great interest was manifested all over the state in the movement. Last August plans for a building here were submitted and accept ed. From then on up to the present time the work went bravely on and the result has been a magnificent display of the mineral and agricultural resources of the state, besides a splendid display of in-dustrial, textile and horticultural achievements. They are all well arranged and form a grand exhibit such as any state might well feel pround of. Major I. F. Culver of Union Springs, is assistant manager the country they inspected the mineral features of the exhibit and were greatly sur prised at its quantity and quality. Among the mineral display are products of the Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railway Company, Corona Coal and Iron Company, Sloss Iron and Steel Company, Thomas Furnace Company and Standard Coal Company. In the agricultural line the following counties have exhibits: Madison Morgan, Limestone, Dallas, DeKalb, Lee, Montgomery, Marshall, Lauderdale, Cullman, Jefferson and others. In the horticultural display the Mobile and Ohio rail-road, Fruit Growers' and Winery Association share honors. The woodwork and native woods and textile departments are well represented in the building. Auburn, or the Agricultural and Mechanical college, has a creditable display that is now being put up.

Mr. Eckerberger, of Huntsville, is also con-nected with the display in the capacity of secretary. The building was formally opened yesterday morning and was visited by hundreds of people. During the stay of Governor Oates: "The grandeur of the show is only equaled by the indomitable will to do, energy, pluck and courage on the part of Atlanta and her people."

Adjutant General Harvey E. Jones: "Who would have thought that Atlanta could chieve such a magnificent success. It is Herculean in enterprise and splendid in success.

Colonel Barry L. Hart, Montgomery: "You people up here have more 'git up and git' than I thought was in the city. I since I have seen the exposition. the south has ever accomplished. It is ahead of the New Orleans exposition have been here several days and every day I see something new.' D. M. Mclver, news editor of the Advertiser: "It beats our southern exposition at Montgomery. I am struck with the grandeur of the buildings and the variety of their architecture. The city is far ahead of what I expected. I am glad to see the Alabama exhibit is among the best state displays here."

Major J. G. Harris, ex-superintendent of education of Alabama: "I've never spent a more interesting and instructive day. This exposition is a grand comprehe sive display of everything on earth, nearly. I could spend a month here and then not see all. The educational feature of the exposition is replete with displays."

Mr. Robert Rawles, president of the Alabama Press Association: "I never saw so many things in my life on such a grand scale. I've been wondering, sometimes, where I am 'at.' Your city is greater than the exposition, on the prin-ciple that the creator is greater that the creature. We have had a big time since coming and I would not have missed it."

Colonel Stanley, one of the pioneer ed itors of the state: "I wish all the peopl of Alabama could come here and see the exposition. It is wonderful and reflects great credit on Atlanta and her enterprising citizens."

Captain Paul Sanguinneti, of Montgom ery: "I wish we had it in Montgomery Oh, yes, we could take care of it, I think." Ross Smith, railroad commissioner: "I've marvelled at the pluck and energy of these Atlanta people."

Special attractions will be presented every day next week. Next Thursday night will occur the illuminations of the grounds by the use of chemicals prepared especially for the occasion. Twenty-five thousand lights in addition to those at present on the grounds will be used and the exposition will be as bright as day. The illumination will commence just after dark and will continue until a late hour. Twenty tons of chemicals will be burned upon the grounds and every known article prepared for illumination purposes will be

Each afternoon special programmes will be rendered. There will be tight rope walking by John Weitzman, the champion slack wire parformer of the world. On the lake will be aquatic sports and tub races, and around the place will march the parade of all nations. This week is to be made notable on account of the out-of-door attractions, and the children will attend by the thousands Three exhibitions will be given by the government life saving station. These exhibits will show in detail the manner in which the passengers are rescuer from wrecked vessels. The large pole that has been erected in the middle of Clara Meer will be the wrick. On the bank of the lake, where is located the life saving station, the cannon will fire a ball of line over the wreck. Sailors in the lake will catch the line as it falls and make it fast to the mast The breeches bouy will then be run over ashore. The exhibition is very exciting and gives a splendid idea of the manner in which the service rescues shipwrecked sail-

Improvements on the Grounds. The exposition is getting ready for the rush and is brushing up and cleaning the grounds as fast as the men can do the work. Even now there is apparent a great change and everywhere can be seen the good effects of the brush and broom. The trestle that has been standing across the middle of Clara Meer has been at last removed and the railroad tracks around the grounds will be taken up in a few days, probably Monday The old unsightly trestle has been ordered torn down time and again, but as the exhibits had not all arrived, it was necessary to let it remain until all the cars had been delivered and returned. the cars had been delivered and returned.

The exhibits are now practically in the buildings and consequently there is no fur-ther need for the bridge work. There is but little more paving to be done on the walks. The most of this work has been accomplished and the balance will completed as soon as the gravel is pla so the steam roller can get to work. All the walks are paved except in front of the man-ufactures building, around the woman's building and the bridge across the lake. This will be reached by the early part of next week and by the close of the week it is expected that all will be completed and the roll will be taken from the grounds.

Hon. Morris Happ, president of the Chamber of Commerce of Macon, has received a letter from parties in Dakota who ceived a letter from parties in Dakota who have 400 horses and wish to lease the track and racing grounds and conduct a running and trotting meet. The matter will be given consderation by the proper Petition for Reinstatement.

Mr. G. E. Harrington has filed a peti-tion in the United States court asking Judge Speer to order his reinstatement as baggage master on the Southwestern railway, a position which he has held for many years, and from which he was dis-charged on August 22d "without any premany years, and from which he was discharged on August 22d "without any previous warning, intimation or knowledge of the grounds for his discharge. That on that day he was notified of his discharge, with the formal statement that the same was on account of the non-payment of a certain debt claimed to be due and owing by petitioner to one Wynn. Petitioner at the time remonstrated and denied any such indebtedness and further notified the Central railroad and its officials that the said Wynn had brought sult against petitioner for said debt and that he appeared at the fustice court from tme to time for three months in obedience to said summons, demanding a trial and denying said indebtedness, when the case was finally dismissed for want of prosecution." Petitioner claims that his discharge was a great wrong and outrage, and is a reflection upon his character and operates to prevent him from obtaining employment with any other railroad company. Petitioner prays the court for $1,000 damages and that he may have and recover judgment for treble damages; and he further asks that the court will pass an order directing the receivers and officials acting under them to reinstate him as baggage master. Hardeman & Moore are petitioner's attorneys.

Writ of Habeas Corpus.

Writ of Habeas Corpus. This morning Judge John P. Ross, of the city court of Macon heard a writ of habeas corpus in the case of Gus Royal, who shot Allen Jones a few nights ago. Royal was arraigned before the city court and waived preliminary trial and was committed to jail. His attorneys, Dessau & Hodges, took out the writ, asking for Royal's release from jail on bond. Judge Ross granted the writ and fixed ball at $250, which Royal has given.

Other Legal Matters. In the United States court today Special Master Eustace W. Speer filed his report in the intervention of Burnham, Williams & Co. vs. the Central railroad, and allowed intervenors $200.92.

In the city court today Hettie Colburn was found guilty of simple larceny and sentenced to the chaingang for eight months.

Mrs. Anne E. Brewer filed suit this morning in Bibb superior court for $10,000 damages aginst the city of Macon for injuries sustained in November, 1893. She was walking on a sidewalk on Second street near Burke's music store, when her foot twisted on a loose brick, throwing her to the ground and fracturing her left leg.

C. A. Stevens and Mabel Stevens, who were arrested in Atlanta yesterday suspected of complicity in the robbery at Macon of Postmaster S. S. Coggins, of Beeks, Pike county of $188, were tried today before Recorder Freeman and dismissed. Coggins could not identify Stevens as the man who robbed him.

TWO JURORS FIGHT.

One of Them Was Holding Out Against the Other Eleven Men. Albany, Ga., October 11.—(Special.)—J. C. Vimbery and O. F. Tarver, two of this city's prominent young men, were the participants in a rough and tumble fight this morning in which both were somewhat dis-figured. They were members of a jury on a civil case. The jury standing elever which had been tied up since last Tuesday to one for a verdict; Tarver was the one man who held out against the eleven. He had been expostulated with, argued with and entreated. This morning as the jury was being taken to breakfast some banter made by Wimberg provoked Tarver and they began to fight. The bailiff could not separate them. Upon the adjournment of court this afternoon the jury was dismissed and a mistrial was ordered.

John Jones and Tom Scott, negroes, got into a dispute which ended by Jones stabbing Scott in the abdomen, inflicting a serious wound. Jones is in jail.

Died from His Injuries.

Elberton, Ga., October 11.—(Special.)—Mr. Theo F. Cleveland, of Ruckersville, in this county, who was so seriously hurt on Tuesday last by a runaway horse, died at his home yesterday. Mr. Cleveland was quite a prominent gentleman and exceedingly popular in the county. He was a brother-in-law of Colonel John P. Shannon.

An Injunction Granted. An injunction was granted by Judg Lumpkin yesterday against J. M. Swanson. The application was filed by E. E. Kirby, who alleges that he bought Swanson out under the agreement that Swanson was to keep out of the ticket brokerage business

A warm bath with Cuticura Soap, a single application of Cuticura followed by mild doses of Cuticura (ointment), the great skin cure, Resolvent (the new blood purifier), will afford instant relief, permit rest and sleep, and point to a speedy cure in every form of torturing and disfiguring skin humours.

In the new building by December 1st, instead of by April 1st, as was contemplated, and by January 1st the building will be finished.

This will be a big saving of time and expense to the government and will be finished.

The Commissioner's Office. It is the general opinion among those in a position to know that a removal of the commissioner's office from Dalton to Rome is contemplated.

The only federal district commissioner's office outside of Atlanta in this section is at Dalton, and the only public building is here at Rome. So it is conjectured that the extra rooms in the new building will be utilized for that purpose, as there is no use for the apartments in connection with the postoffice.

A Strike Averted.

The action of Vice President Laldwin in issuing an order relieving main line engin-eers from yard-switching duty has averted a serious strike in Rome. For some days the feeling has been very strong and there has already been a small strike, involving a great deal of delay in handling coal cars. Had the rule been persisted in there would have been a great deal of trouble in the yards here, where four divisions of the Southern system are centralized.

As it is, everything is working smoothly again today and no further trouble is anticipated, since the main line men are relieved from the extra duty. Cut with a Razor.

A bloody cutting affray occurred in the suburbs last night in which a negro named Bob Jenkins was slashed with a razor by some unknown party.

The negro was terribly gashed. He is still alive and the officers have been notified and are at work on the case.

Company Reorganized. The Rome branch of the Keeley institute has been reorganized and will be conducted on a slightly altered plan. Major A. B. McDonald has just returned from Atlanta, where the reorganization was effected. Hereafter a married man and wife will Hereafter a married man and wife will be in charge as resident manager and stewardess of the institute and several improvements will be added to the institute for the care of patients.

The damage suit against the institute will come up in December but those who are on the inside do not think that it will amount to much, as the evidence is insufficient.

Judge Harris's Chances. Judge Harris's Chances.

The friends of Judge George A. H. Harris, of the city court, are very hopeful of his reappointment. Even the friends of Colonel W. S. McHenry do not deny the fact that there are many chances in favor of his reappointment from what has leaked out in conversation with Governor Atkinson on the subject.

The friends of Colonel McHenry have put in their petition, but the friends of Judge Harris are waiting for a more convenient season. If they win it will be a great triumph for Judge Harris, as he has been opposed by the majority of the Rome bar.

MORE WAR RELICS.

Savannah Sends Up a Large and Fine Confederate Collection.

Savannah, Ga., October 11 .- (Special.) Probably the largest and most interestng collection of confederate relics ever brought together left Savannah today for exhibition in the confederate relic hall at the Cotton States and International exposition. They comprise everything, from a pair of confederate socks to the guns and arms used by famous soldiers. These relics have been collected from everywhere, principally through the efforts of Mrs. L. H. Raines, the president of the charter chapter of the Daughters of tre Confederacy, of this city. An interesting story is told in connection with the old confederate socks. It was customary in many cases for the young lady who made them to put her name and address upon them and for the soldier who secured them to begin a correspondence with the fall manufacturer of his footwear. In this way it is said many correspondences were started, the fruits of which were strong friendships and, in some cases, love and marriage. There are also many old mus-kets and weapons of all kinds from many a famous battlefield, and among other things a piece of the hull of the old confederate ram Savannah, which was blown up at the close of the war. Miss Annie C. Harmon, of this city, went up as the custodian of the relics, all of which are quite valuable. Mrs. Raines will preside at the meeting in Atlanta, on November 9th, when a state society of the Daughters of the Confederacy will be organized,

HENRY HAMMOND NOMINATED.

He Is Complimented for His Work in the Black Campaign.

Augusta, Ga., October 11. -(Special.)-The democracy of Richmond county, in mass meeting assembled, nominated Henry C. Hammond today for the legislature, to fill the unexpired term of John A. Barnes, The nomination of Mr. Hammond was unanimous and by a rising vote, and was a compliment paid him in recognition of his good work as president of the Young Men's Democratic Club in the Black campaign. Another Ginhouse Burned.

Cuthbert, Ga., October 11.—(Special.)— News was received in Cuthbert yesterday that the gin and millhouse of Mr. A. J. Bell, who lives near the line between this Bell, who lives near the line between this and Calhoun counties, was totally destroyed by fire night before last. The loss was complete and amounts to more than $3.00. There was no insurance. The fire was unquestionably of an incendiary origin. In the ginhouse were twenty bales of cotten and some cotton seed, which were also destroyed.

Montgomery, Ala., October 11 .- (Special.) Every sort of politics is brought up in Alabama. The democrats are divided on the financial question and the republicans are badly mixed on the same and other propositions. A prominent republican said here a few days ago that he positively would not support or vote for a gold bug nominee and that many other republicans in Alabama were with him.

But the worse mixed of all are the popu-made it a formidable political organization in Alabama but Captain Kolb has, how, ever, never won any state victories for the party while leading the fight and all those in the ranks have ambition and claim Kolb is chargeable to a great extent with the party's failure to "get there." Messrs. Goodwyn, Bowman and Manning are of this way of thinking and therefore they have declared war on Kolb. One of the chief issues between them at this time is the proposition as to whether republicans shall be allowed to enjoy all of the rights, privileges and immunities of good' fellowship in the party's convention in the next campaign. In other words, shall the republicans be invited on allowed to fuse with the populists in the coming campaign. Kolb says "no," Goodwyn and company say "yes."

In addition to any patriotic reasons he reason for wanting to hobnob with the republicans. He is a contestant before a coincidence that she happened to possess epublican house of representatives

Congressman Kolb's seat. Captain Kolb and his men have started a monster conference to meet in Birmingham on November 13th. The conference to be composed of one delegate from each district in the state and five delegates at large from each county for each representative in the general assembly.

The best delegates will be elected by the voters of each beat on November 2nd, and the other delegates will be selected by conferences held at the court houses on November 9th.

November 3th.

It is announced that the conference will not be confined to populists, but all who favor the purposes for which it is called are urged to come. It may be stated in this connection that no democrats will participate in its doings, in spite of the fact that the call expressly states that no one will be bound by the action of the caucus. The purposes of the meeting are announced to be two-fold-to bring about honest elections in Alabama and to a the cause of free silver coinage at a ratio of 16 to 1. It is now stated that Goodwyn, Bowman & Co. will undertake to capture the convention. In fact, Captain Kolb's newspaper of this district says editorially:

"They do say the populist promoters of The candidacy of W. F. Aldrich, republican, for governor of Alabama, are as busy as the days and evenings are long with devices to steer the November conference upon a mighty wave of gush, into a 'fusion' love feast. These are the same gentlemen who promised that an extraordinary meeting of the populist state executive committee, called at their urgency, to meet in Birmingham, July 24th last, would result in an enthusiastic state convention of the people's party which would merge that grand body into the little republican party, with Aldrich in the lead here

And so it is. The hottest fight to be made in the state next year promises to be over the populist nominations. If Goodwyn, Bowman & Co. succeed in capturing Captain Kolb's November conference, that settles it, and Goodwyn & Co. are bosses. If not, it will be a battle royal with the pops.

Atlanta will have as an honored guest today a notable personage, who has figured Mrs. Martha Wilson Atalanta Lumpkir Campton, the distinguished Georgia lady of patriotic lineage, for whom this city was first named, will be here for a visit

She comes to see what the great city which, in its infancy, took her name can do in the way of illustrating the south's industrial, commercial and agricultural greatress. She will be the guest of a cousin, Mrs. William Briggs, and will remain several days. When this city was laid out as a town, many years ago, it was named Marthasville, in honor of Miss Martha Lumpkin, She was the youngest daughter of Hon. Wilson Lumpkin, who served this state many other important capacities. ernor Lumpkin was very angry because of the change, but stated that it did not mat-ter, as the honor had certainly not been sought by any member of his family.

The honored lady for whom this city was first named is now living very quietly in her quaint old home near Athens. It is made of rough granite and is very old. She is a lady of sweet disposition and strong character.

It is a rather remarkable coincidence that she should bear both of the names by which this city has been named. One of her names is Atalanta, and there is an in-teresting story connected with the way in which it was given her. When she was a child of eight months she was left standing on a sill where a new house was being built. Although she was quite young, instinct warned her that the only way of saving her life was to walk and she walked. From that incident her may have, Mr. Goodwyn has a selfish | father gave her the name of Atalanta, the Lexington, Ry. October 11.—The gray mare, Ophelia, won two heats in the 2:16 pace last evening, and stepped out today and settled the race in one heat by going a mile in 2:11½. Helrioom earned second more; Bessie B third and Dyresburg fourth.

The new addition to the classic 2:10 list developed before the 2:11 pace was concluded and Elle T's advent into the circle makes four for her sire, Altamont, this season, placing him well in front for 1895 as a producer of fast harness racers. Ella T was choice at even money against the entire field and it looked at one time as if she could not win and was fairly beaten in the second heat by Colonel Thornton. Those who played the gray mare, thinking their money lost, now backed the colonel with disastrous results, as Ella T raced like a new horse, coming with renewed vigor from the seventh furlong home, winning by half a length from Colonel Thornton in 2:10. In the next two heats she outfooted a new horse each time, landing a clever victory and her first race for the season.

John Dickerson had the California gelding, Fred S. Moody, right on the edge for the $7,500 futurity stake and he had little trouble to pull off first money, $5,000, as Wigns was out of form and met his first defeat and the Texas colt, Electrophole, 630 not save sufficient speed.

Three heats were raced off in the 2:14 trot, when rain came and postponement was necessary. Conqueror ruled as odds on choice over the field and did not figure in the fray. Charley Marvin won seemingly easily the last two heats with Utility, giving her a new record.

The Convention City.

The number of conventions that have recently been held in Atlanta, and that are to be held here in the near future, warrant us in bestowing a new name on this flourishing city. Atlanta has been called the Gate City, the Cracker City, the capital of the Piedmont region, and now it will have to be known as the Convention City.

The list of these conventions is an posing one, so much so that we doubt If any other city in the country has ever had the good fortune to duplicate it. Moreover, the list comprises some of the most important bodies that have ever embled in this country.

The significance of this lies in the fact that it shows that the eyes of all the prominent people in the republic are turned toward Atlanta; that the history of the city, unique in the annals of American municipalities, has attracted the attention and admiration of the whole country.

It was in Atlanta that the democratic party of the south was revived and reorganized. It was in Atlanta that the lines of sectionalism and political prejudice were blotted out. It was in Atlanta that the old south, buckling down to new duties and responsibilities, came to be called the new south. It was Atlanta that gave to the nation that extraordinary and unique missionary of peace, Henry W. Grady. ## A Home Question.

The Wilmington Messenger asks the following questions: If one family in North Carolina—the Holts—find it to their interest to engage very argely in cotton milling, cwning no less than sixteen mills, and grow rich, why sannot a town of the size of Wilminster.

with many and great advantages, also have sixteen or more mills? If it pays in Alamance and Mecklenburg and Richmond Liberty will not be muzzled now. amance and Mecklenburg and Rechindra and Cabarrus and other counties to have many cotton factories, why will it not pay in the chief commercial town with advan-tages not less than those elsewhere? It is leasant to know that sixteen cotton mills are in course of construction in this state.

If North Carolina finds it so profitable to engage in cotton manufacturing, why will it not pay Georgia to put more of her capital and enterprise into this industry? Cotton mills have always yielded fine dividends in this state, and it is strange that we do not build more of them. North Carolina's example is a good one to follow.

The Views of Leading Bankers.

The Independent, of New York, a religious, literary and semi-political weekly, has in its current number a symposium on the money question. It prints articles in favor of the single gold standard by DeWitt Warner, Edward Atkinson and others, while the argument in favor of bimetallism is presented by William P. St. John, General Francis A. Walker and President E. B. Andrews.

The most interesting, as well as the most satisfactory of the articles, is that contributed by Mr. William P. St. John. This is partly, but not wholly, due to the fact that Mr. St. John is one of the most successful bankers in New York, being president of the Mercantile National bank. It is, of course, an interesting fact that the president of a national bank in New York city should lay aside selfish interests that might be suposed to appertain to the relations between his business and the operations of. the single gold standard; but, apart from his business as a banker, Mr. St. John is one of the few men engaged in banking in New York city who have made an exhaustive investigation of the money question. He is one of the few men in the country who have approached the question from both the practical and the ideal side. In other words, he is both a man of affairs and an earnest student, and for that reason his matured conclusions are of more importance than those of a man who is merely a student and is not familiar with the practical affairs of banking.

The opening sentences of Mr. St. John's paper give a cue to the conclusions he has reached in his investigations. "Money is the creation of law." "The essence of money is the law." He then goes on to show that British law confers upon the possessor of a troy ounce of gold eleven-twelfths from a title to £3 17s 9d of English money on demand; or he may command £3 17s 101/2d for it if he will await the convenience of the mint. The law of the United tates gives the possessor of gold nine-tenths fine a title to money-at the rate of $1 for every 25.8 grains, and similar laws prevail in Europe. The following significant paragraph coming from the pen of one of the leading bankers of the metropolis is certainly worth considering, to say the least, by those who have only a superficial knowledge of the money question: The happy achievement predicted for ideal bimetallism would depend for its certainty on the one indisputable fact of history, to-wit: that the world has never been afflicted with too much gold and silver money. The excess of the supply of gold and silver over the requirements of the arts and Asia would be without employment, except as money. This excess would be effectually money without the coining of it at all, and coining price. The arts and Asia be supplied at the coining price at um. Hence, whether a few nations or a single great nation could achieve the like result under the law of bimetallism, adopted independently, would depend on adopted independently, would depend on what supply of the more abundant metal United States offered unlimited coinage for silver into our present standard silver dol-lar, while continuing our offer of unlimited coinage for gold at 25.8 grains standard to the dollar, gold would continue to seek con-vension into the money of the United States for as long as the amount of silver seeking the same was deficient of the aggregate increase of money which our peodomestically, could profitably use. Now, here is the opinion of an expert who not only has a practical knowledge of banking, but who has been engaged for a dozen years in studying the money question from the standpoint of the world's greatest economists. The views of such a man ought to have weight with those who have not had President St. John's opportunities for studying both sides of the money question. He thus concludes an article which we regret we have not room for:

My resarch of the experience of France e experience of the United States, of influence of these experiences on the world at large, satisfy me that conditions present and seemingly prospective warrant an altogether acceptable achievement of bimetallism independently, if re-enacted as the law of the United States. I verily believe that, at least for several years to come, the aggregate sum of silver that the outside world would spare us would be welcomed into our money, the silver dol-lars floating by certificate as now; that for so long the achievement would be the iden tity of our coining price for gold and silve with the world's market price of each; that, for so long, a dollar's worth of gold would be the gold in a full-weight gold dollar, and a dollar's worth of silver would be the silver in a full-weight silver dollar. ence, at least for years, the achieve ment would be the concurrent circulation of gold and silver money in the United

This is the deliberate conclusion of one of New York's leading bankers. That it is an unselfish and impartial conclusion who can doubt?

According to this mouthpiece of the administration, it is our duty, as between Cuba and Spain, to be neutral in word and in deed. There is no law to prevent us from speaking our sentiments singly or together, but the attorney general thinks that it would be in the highest degree discourteous to Spain to hold public meetings in the interests of Cuba, and that such conduct would embarrass the government in carrying

Plenty of Room at Reasonable Rates. An esteemed correspondent suggests that the Atlanta papers have said so much about the importance of fair and reasonable rates during the exposition that outsiders have jumped to the conclusion that the charges here are exorbi-

Our friends at a distance could not make a bigger mistake. Within the past few months many new hotels, boarding houses and lodging houses have been taking boarders and renting rooms, and there is so much competition among them that our visitors can get accommodations for as reasonable rates as prevail in other cities.

People can come to Atlanta and stay a few days or weeks, and make their sojourn cost just what they please. The rates given by the bureau of public comfort and advertised in The Constitution show that board and lodging can be had here for the same old rates. If our visitors want to pay more they can go to a few high-priced places. They can take their choice.

Atlanta at all times has ample hotel and boarding house accommodations, and this year she has quadrupled them. She can entertain 100,000 strangers, and it is ridiculous to say that, with so much house room and so many people anxious to turn an honest penny, extortion stands any chance. We invite anybody who has any curiosity on the subject to investigate the matter.

Rural Free Mail Service.

In a recent article in the North American Review Mr. John W. Stahl makes an argument in favor of the free delivery of mail to people living in the rural districts.

Mr. Stahl denies the statement that the farmers care very little about the free delivery and collection of their mail, and cites the resolutions unanimously passed | danger of making fads of certain lines of by many large conventions of farmers, fruit growers, dairymen and stockmen in all parts of the country. He also shows that Postmaster General Wana; maker's report on the free collection and delivery of mail matter in a few small villages was misleading in its unfavorable summary of results.

Out in the country the farmers are too busy to go to the postoffice every day. Yet their postal facilities are no better than they were in the days of President Washington. Cities and towns have been favored with free delivery, money order offices, etc., but the country people have to get along with the same system which they had more than a century ago.

It is not just to single out the country people as a distinct class to be denied the postal privileges given the inhabitants of cities and towns. Those who enjoy free mail delivery in a city get that special privilege simply on account of their place of residence. So it will be seen that the government discriminates in favor of cities and against the country.

It is claimed that free rural mail delivery will be a heavy extra expense, but as it has not been tried in the United States, nobody knows whether it would be expensive or not. The chances are that with better facilities there would be more mail sent and the revenue of the Thousands of farmers would take daily papers if they could get them delivered at their homes. In this age farmers want to read the daily market reports in order to know when to hold and when to sell their crops.

The farmers in France, Switzerland, Italy and Great Britain receive a free delivery of their daily mail, and if the system works well in those countries it is fair to suppose that it would work well here. It should be tried.

Concerning Metropolitan Newspapers For some years we have closely watch. ed the leading newspapers of the country, studying their strong points, and wondering why they are so slow to remedy some of their most evident de-

We believe that symmetry and just proportion are as necessary to a newspaper as they are to a statue, a building or any work of art. A newspaper may be symmetrical in shape, and its mechanical makeup may be artistic, but unless its pages show the proper distribution and proportion of its various departments it will still be defective. When a paper gives too much editorial and too little news, people kick, and when it has a full news service and only a few lines of editorial the effect is unsatisfactory Our metropolitan dailies understand some of the principles of symmetry and proportion, but they fail to apply them all the time. Perhaps their most glaring defect is the prominence and space which they give to local news, especially in New York. When a New York newspaper fills three-fourths of its space with city matters, and devotes the remaining one-fourth to editorials and foreign and domestic news and miscellany it seems to think that it has done its full duty. One or two of the metropolitan papers make foreign news their fad when they go beyond their local limits. They will have pages of spe-cials from Cuba, Japan and Europe, but they will ignore important events in the leading states of the union. During the past twenty years they have printed vol umes about Africa, while they never give any South American news unless there is a revolution going on. The newspapers have hardly given us a hint of the wonderful progress of the South American republics in the past generation, but they have kept pace with Af-

Why is this? It is a hard question to answer, but we all know that many big newspapers have these defects. They treat the southern states very much as they treat South America They publish stories of crime and vio lence and say little about our material progress. Take, for instance, a recent notable event at our exposition. Our Liberty bell holiday was a memorable occasion, and it was one of even more than national importance. The mayor and council of Philadelphia accompanied the bell, and the governor of Georgia was one of the speakers. Both Mayor Warwick and the governor in their speeches touched upon a subject of international importance—the independence of Cuba-and their speeches, with 50,000 people on the ground, were made at an exposition which is participated in by our government and the governments of several Spanish-American countries. Yet very few of the big dailies north and west paid any attention to the matter. The Philadelphia Press and The Chicago Times-Herald were notable exceptions, but their contemporaries devoted only a few lines to the incident or ignor ed-it altogether.

The newspapers which had little or nothing to say about our Liberty bell day ovation had many columns devoted to local and foreign news and sensational stories of crime. They minimized an international event and magnified the occurrences of the day in their own cities. This is not a symmetrical and rightly proportioned presentation of the news.

We have noted the fact that some of the daily papers in the smaller cities have a better appreciation of these points than the big dailies in the largest cities. The New York papers are the worst offenders. They are almost purely local, and their outside news is mainly foreign. In small cities, like Springfield, Mass., we occasionally find daille which give all the important news and do not give local subjects undue prominence. The newspaper which is devoted to local and foreign news, to the exclusion of the important events occurring in other sections of its own country, is only half a newspaper, no matter how inter esting its columns may be to a certain class. The journalist who misses of barely touches an event of national significance at the most remarkable international exposition of our day is only half a journalist, no matter how admirable his management may be in some lines. To sum up the whole business, our metropolitan newspapers need a more symmetrical news service. They are in news to the neglect of others.

The Real Meaning.

The real meaning of the term "sound" money as employed by the agents of Wall street and the money power is beginning to crop out. Indeed, in some quarters there has never been any effort to conceal the real meaning of the term, but the southern cuckoos have all along maintained that it means a dollar which shall be the result of international bimetallism. Under these circumstances the following from the Washington correspondent of The New York Journal of Commerce will make interesting reading for the honest voters of Georgia and the south: One of the gratifying features of the popular discussion of the money question, from the standpoint of the sound money nen, is the clarifying of popular opinion i egard to the monetary standard. It may invention of either party will be cour ageous and frank enough to declare for gold standard, but the process of popular education before next summer may make possible even this result. The more intelligent students of finance here who clung for some years to the belief in possibility of an international bimetallic agreement have definitely abandoned any such conception during months. The president and some of his supporters in the southwest have been caumore mail sent and the revenue of the tious about defining their exact interprepostoffice department would increase. tation of "sound" money for fear of offerhave absorbed for years the stock argu-ments of the silver extremists, but they are likely to be more outspoken now that the situation is coming to be understood by intelligent voters.

There you have it straight and cool. The Washington correspondent of The Journal of Commerce is an intimate friend of Secretary Carlisle, and has his information direct from headquarters. When, therefore, he says that "the president and some of his supporters in the southwest have been cautious about defining their exact interpretation of 'sound' money for fear of offering too strong a medicine" to those who have been taught to believe that democratic financial doctrines were right and the demonetization of silver a monstrous crime. "But," says the correspondent, "they are likely to be more outspoken now that the situation is coming to be understood by intelligent voters."

Even so; but we think the intelligent voters of the southwest, and indeed of the whole country, have long ago discovered that the term "sound" money is a cloak for the single gold standard.

Governor Clarke's Opportunity.

At present all the indications point to an effort on the part of the Florida Athletic Club to have the Corbett-Fitzsimmons fight take place at Hot Springs,

It is announced in the newspapers that there will be three days fighting at Hot Springs between the leading pugilists of America. The mayor is said to be in favor of the fight, and it is understood that under the Arkansas law the penalty for each fighter is a money fine ranging from $1,000 to $2,500. Governor Clarke has not yet shown any disposition to resort to Jacksonian measures. He is quoted as saying that he will not call a special session of the legislature. He will trust to the local officers, and if they fail to do their duty he will go to the limit of authority to prevent the fight, though he doubts whether he should step in unless the local officers complain that they are obstructed in the discharge of their duty.

In an interview, he said: So they have decided to have the fight in Arkansas, have they? And they are going to fight three days, are they? Well, I sup-pose the authorities at Hot Springs know their duty and will enforce the law. They are sworn to do their duty the same as I or any other official. If they find that the law is violated and are unable to enforce it, I suppose they will call on me as governor for assistance. If they do, I will be com-pelled to render all assistance in my power o help them out of their trouble, as the

The people have an impression that the governor has the power to prevent the fight, which is not the case. The local authorities of Garland county alone have ju-risdiction in the case. I believe that sevenme, if there was any law to warrant inter-

It is his duty to speak out positively and put the athletic club upon notice that the fight will be prevented at any cost. If the governor can prevent it without calling the legislature together, so much the better, but he should see to it that it does not

Governor Culberson went to work in the right way. Believing that the existing law did not completely cover the case, he called a special session of the legislature, and in a few hours it was settled that the fight could not occur in Texas. His course in the matter is supported by the enlightened public opinion of the country, and Texas took a long step forward.

The entire south is interested in this matter. It would reflect disgrace upon our section to have it said that the prize fighters are barred out of every corner of the continent except a popular resort in one of the southern states. Arkansas cannot afford to permit this barbarious exhibition within her borders. It should be promptly and vigorously nipped in the bud, and we are confident that the governor can stop it if he will act with the decision and the vigor of the young governor of Texas. Let him remember that this is an important test case. Civilization is on trial in Arkansas.

Policemen Ordered Not to Use Their Pistols Recklessly.

CONNOLLY ISSUES AN ORDER

Shoot Only in Self-Defense or in Cases of Violent Resistance.

CHAIRMAN JOHNSON READS THE RULE

The Recent Killing Has Stirred Up the Department Greatly-Reckless Shooting Must Stop.

Chairman Johnson, of the police board, got out his little black leather-bound book of rules and regulations of the police department yesterday, and after reading up on the contents therein referring to the right of policemen to fire their pistols at fleeing criminals, decided that some steps should be taken in the light of Wednsday night's tragedy.

He concluded that the members of the police force should not use their weapons except in case of necessity and during the day ne communicated that belief to Chief Connolly, with directions that the police should be cautioned accordingly.

At the 4 o'clock change of watches yesterday afteroon the rules of the department on the subject were read to the force by Chief of Detectives Wright, acting in the absence of Chief Connolly. Mr. Johnson was present and he acquiesced in the remarks of Captain Wright, cautioning the police as to when to use their weapons.

The first rule read by Captain Wright was that relating to the use of policemen's clubs or batons. The rule says that a policeman may use his club or baton when he is assaulted in a violent manner by one or more persons of superior physical strength to himself, and then only to protect himself from injury. The rule says that a good, manly policeman will not lose his temper, maltreat or strike a prisoner without he is himself first struck, and in danger of being disabled or beaten from the successful discharge of his duty.

The next rule read by the chief of detectives was that referring to the use of pistols by policemen. The rule was read very carefully and the men paid strict attention to it. Captain Wright told them that great care should be exercised in shooting at criminals and that it should not be done except in extraordinary cases. He said that he doubted if a policeman would be justified in shooting at a burglar who had broken into a house and was endeavoring to escape. For offenders of less consequence pistols certainly should not be used.

The Pistol Use Rule.

The rule of the department on the subject says that a policeman should never draw or attempt to use his pistol except in extraordinary cases, such as in the actual defense of his own or another's life; when attacked with a deadly weapon or in active pursuit of escaping criminals, charged with great crimes, a murder, burglary, arson, etc. The rule says that shooting at another is a crime, except when proven to be one in self-defense; therefore, f a policeman, sworn to execute the criminal laws of the state, should, through cowardice, passion or malice, shoot at, wound or kill another he would be a criminal in a double sense for the reason that in doing so he would be guilty of a violation of his

Odds and Ends.

"A Marseilles paper, of an anti-Bona parte proclivity, was hilarious when the first Napoleon was banished to Elba," quoth an old French editor to a repre-sentative of The Newspaper Maker, the other day. "The paper in question," he continued, "said, That most infamous of all modern human beasts, little Nappy, is said to have broken his chains at Elba and started for our shores again. He will never reach here.' A few days later his ship appeared in sight, and the Marsei paper said: 'It seems that Monsieur Na-poleon has weathered the voyage, and is now in view of the land that he once loved so well.' Next day the paper came out and chronicled the following fact: 'Em-peror Napoleon I., the greatest man since the hour of Caesar, has landed on our shores once more, and will again take his place upon the throne that he formerly adorned. All honor and all hall to the em-peror.''

Talk of Dugald Dalgettys after that! Talk of Vicars of Bray! But, haven't we some chaps of the very same character in American newspaper circles?

THE WEATHER REPORT.

The reports received by the weather bureau last night showed the controlling features of the weather to be a trough of low pressure, extending from the lake regions, through the central portion of the country, to the gulf of Mexico, and to the east and west of the barometric depression an area of high pressure prevailed. The storm is of no violence in the way of wind, but its clouds extend eastward, in advance of the center, to the Atlantic coast. It also caused light rains to fall in the gulf states, the Ohio valley to fall in the gulf states, the Ohio valley and lake region during yesterday, and at the hour of observation last night rain was still falling at stations situated in Aiabama, Louisiana and Ohio. This depression will continue to move eastward, causing light local showers to occur in Georgia today, probably followed by clearing toward night.

The temperature changes during the past thirty-six hours were unimportant, the only place where any apprediative change occurred was in the lake region, where a change to the cooler was noted. For Georgia today: Light local showers.

Employers and Employes Are Interested in the Movement.

A SPECIAL PROGRAMME WILL BE ARRANGED

Several Large Days Are Approaching and the Great Exposition Rush Is Now On.

Atlanta Day is to be a great success. The movement, like the properbial ball of snow, is become greater and greater every day. It is the subject of conversation in the offices of the administration building and at every meeting of the executive board the matter is discussed.

Atlanta is going to the exposition er masse. Wage-earners and merchants, employers and employes vill march in to gether and join in making it the day of all days. It will be the occasion in which Atlanta will congratulate herself and rejoice over what has been accomplished Guns and cannon will boom and steam whistles will blow. The city will close up the doors and spend the day on the grounds Buildings will be decorated and Atlanta will wear her holiday clothes. It will be, indeed, a gala day, and will mark the largest attendance at the exposition. The merchants of the city are interest ed and are lending a helping hand. Managers of large firms are volunteering their aid to the committee from the executive boards. The arrangements are being made for the day without the least difficulty and all will be in readiness for Novem-

Yesterday afternoon the attention of the executive board was called to the day, and the matter was discussed. Every member of the board was delighted over the amount of work the committee ha accomplished and from the statement that was made before the board it was evident that no trouble would be had in making the day the greatest of all days of the exposition. Every business house in the city will be requested to close its doors and allow the employes to take the day off. The managers of the houses will aiso be asked to furnish every man in their employ with a ticket of admission to the grounds. All who have been approached on the subject have readily consented to grant the request of the exposition and have said they would cheerfully work in connection with the committee and aid in creating interest in the day.

The Committee Is at Work.

The committee appointed from the executive board is already at work among the business men of the city. It has found as yet no difficulty in placing a large list of names upon the paper, pledging to close up their houses and compliment their employes wih free admission tickets. The committee will continue its work and will make a thorough canvass of the city. All the railroad shops and the different factories will be visited and everywhere the committee goes it will make the request that the place be closed on November 2d and the men be allowed visit the exposition at the expense of

The Smaller Towns Are Coming. Not only is Atlanta going to celebrate, but her friends will be at the exposition on that day in force. All the smaller towns in the state have been requested to prepare to come to Atlanta and join us in making the day the greatest in enthusiasm and extendence that will be had while the and attendance that will be had while the exposition lasts.

Special trains will be run on all railroads entering the city and rates will be placed at a low figure, enabling all to be present. These measures will be instrumental in securing a large attendance and will flood the grounds.

Invitations will also be sent the cities and towns of the state to be present on the city days that have been arranged. The dates have not yet been set, but the committee on ceremonies now has the matter under consideration and will make its report in a few days. From information that has been received at the exposition it is evident that nearly all the towns of Georgia will be represented on those days. In most cases the mayor and city council will come in a body.

The Negro Building To Open. The negro building will be officially opened on October 21st. At the meeting of the executive board Yesterday afternoon an application from Commissioner I. Garland Penn was read by President Collier. The application requested that an admission fee of ten cents be granted colored school children who were students of the public schools of the city, the admission to be in force after 12 o'clock on the day of the opening of the negro building. A rate of twenty-five cents was also asked for by the commissioner for students of any school in the state. The application was granted and the rates will be inversibled.

Will be furnished.

Nearly every exhibit in the negro building is now in shape and but little work is required before the building will be in readiness for the opening. Exhibitors have been busy putting on the finishing ouches and some of the work has been rushed both day and night. To Invite Cincinnati.

A committee will go to the Queen City, in a few days to invite the chamber or commerce and city officials.

At a meeting of the executive board yes-at a meeting of the executive board yesterday the committee consisting of nine members of the exposition board were appointed to visit Cincinnati and work in behalf of the exposition. This committee will go in an official capacity and will remain in that city for several days. Its work will be to tell of the greatness of the blow and invite the citizens and city of show and invite the citizens and city of-acials to come on Cincinnati Day.

Passenger Agents Are Coming.

The passenger agents of the United States are coming to the exposition in a body October 16th. They are coming several hundred strong and will be accompanied by their friends. It will be a notable day and will attract much attention.

The agents will come in special trains and will be met at the depot by a committee of directors and taken in charge. Though the directors and taken in charge. Though the directors and taken in charge. Though the programme has not been ruiny arranged, it is certain that some special features will be given. The exposition will be turned over to the railroad men and they will be royally entertained. Every attention possible will be shown the passenger agents and when they leave they will tell the fame of the exposition to the ends of the world.

Now for Connecticut. Governor Coffin, of Connecticut, accompanied by the Governor's Foot Guards, is coming to the exposition October 21st, Connecticut day.

The Governor's Foot Guards of Connecti-The Governor's root Guards of Connectacut, is the oldest military organization in the world and was first organized by Benedict Arnold. Honors innumerable have been showered upon the brave men combeen showered upon the brave men company by it has been left posing the company, but it has been left posing the company, but it has been left for Atlanta to crown the long list of at-tentions that have been shown them. The governor comes on a special train and the Guard will act as escort. A local military escort, which will be arranged by the tary escort, which will be arranged by the committee on ceremonies, will meet the train and act as honorary escort to the distinguished party. The local military will escort the governor and Guards to the exposition grounds and will be continually in attendance during their stay in the city. Great Will Be Cleveland Day.

President's day, October 23d, will be one of the greatest days of the exposition On October 17th President Cleveland will leave Gray Gables for Washington and will start for Atlanta October 22d, reaching At-lanta the following day. Distinguished governors and judges of every state in the union will be present and many military companies will come and pass before the president in review. The military com-panies from all over the country are coming and the railroads are going to make a low fare for the occasion

Chile Is on the Way. Commissioner Julian Foster, who has in charge the exhibit that Chile will make at the exposition, reached the city yesterday and at once began work making arrange-ments for the arrival of the exhibit.

Several weeks ago the exhibit was started on its long journey and is now on American soil. In a short time it is expected the shipments will be received and the goods will be placed in position at once. The exhibits consist mainly of nitrate and the various methods used in procuirng it. It will be instructive and will rank among the best exhibits on the grounds.

Wagons Must Keep Out of the Grounds Chief Felder has issued an order pro-hibiting wagons and drays from entering the grounds during the day. There has been a good deal of complaint on account of the drives being crowded with teams. The wagons have created considerable confusion among the crowds and it has been decided to keep them out entirely while the crowds are on the grounds.

The committee appointed from the exposition board has been divided and assigned wards, thus giving system to the work. The following is the committee work. The following is the committee in full:

MACON THIEF CAPTURED.

A Negro Girl Came to Atlanta with Stolen Money. Mary Dillard, colored, left Macon late yesterday afternoon with about $15 of stolen money in her possession. She left with the intention of coming to Atlanta and witnessing the brilliant display of fireworks at the exposition last night. Instead of doing so she slept in a dark cell at police headsale sight in a dark cell at police head-quarters. Mary was not a very smooth thief. She left Macon with the full knowl-edge of many. Last night Chief Butler, of the Central City, telephoned Chief Con-nolly of Mary's departure under questionable circumstances. The matter was turned over to Detectives Barrett and Conway just before the arrival of the Central train from Macon and the result was that the from Macon and the result was that the negro was arrested and locked up fifteen minutes after she placed ner feet on Atlanta rocks. All of the stolen money except the amount she paid in railroad fare was found in the negro's possession. The Macon officers were notified of the capture of the negro last night. An officer will probably come after and take her back to Macon today. She is a young girl.

THE THEATERS LAST NIGHT.

"The Span of Life" had another large house at the Lyceum. The human bridge scene is not only novel but it is intensely interesting, and there are several other scenes in the play almost equally so.

"Spider and Fly" at the Grand.

M. B. Leavitt's "Spider and Fly" attracted another large audience at the Grand last night, and, as on the preceding evenings, pleased those who attended. The spectacle is produced on an extensive scale with beautiful scenery and costumes and large and care large and company of propule with peautiful scenery and costumes and a large and capable company of people.

That realistic railroad scene in "The Limited Mail" enthused another large audience last night at the Columbia. This scene is without doubt the best of the many of the kind now before the public. But the railroad scene is not the only meritorious feature of the performance. In the piece are given several pleasing specialties, including that of Beatrice, a really clever soubsette. Her contortion dancing is wonderful and won for her much applause. "The Limited Mail" will be presented again tonight and at matinee tosented again tonight and at matinee to-day, the night performance closing the company's engagement.

Coming Next Week.

Henry Greenwall telegraphs from Memphis: "Sinbad' is the best spectacular show the scuth ever had. Handsomest women, great chorus, grand scenery; every thing magnificent." "Sinbad" will be at the Lyceum all next week.

"Feck's Bad Boy" comes to the Columbia theater on Monday and Tuesday next with Tuesday matinee. It is being produced by the Atkinson Comedy Company, which has been giving it with great success.

The wonderful and mysterious Professor Samri S. Baldwin and wife cre coming to the Columbia next week. Their engagement promises to be one of the notable events of the season. The Baldwins have circled the globe in their travels and have appeared in almost every country under the sun, uniformally with great success. Their first appearance in this city will be made on Wednesday night next.

One of the successful stars this season is Joe Ott, who now neads a strong specialty company in "The Star Lozer." The star and the piece, which comes to the Grand next Wednesday and Thursday, are pleasantly remembered here.

This gives an idea of the heavy business that is going on in Atlanta during the exposition. For the next three months Atlanta will be one of the most active centers of the continent, and the postal clerks will have a hard pull up the stream.

No disease is more common among the people than scrofula. Handed down from generation to generation, it is found in nearly every family, in some form. It may make its appearance in dreadful runnearly every family, in some form. It may make its appearance in dreadful running sores, in swellings in the neck or goitre, or in eruptions of varied forms. Attacking the mucous membrane it may be known as catarrh, or developing in the lungs it may be, and often is, the prime cause of consumption.

In whatever form scrofula may manifest itself, Hood's Sarsaparilla is its inveterate foe and conqueror. This medicine has such powerful alterative and vitalizing effects upon the blood that every trace of impurity is expelled, and the blood is made pure and healthy.

Farmer Reeves Set Up to the Drinks and Was Robbed.

Farmer Reeves, of Bremen, Ga., had a tale of woe to recite yesterday. He recited it to every policeman he could find. Mr. Reeves, like a good many other people, came to Atlanta yesterday to see the sights. He dropped into a Decatur street barroom and met three handsome young men of pleasant demeanor. They seemed to be young men of the loftiest character, but now Mr. Reeves has reason to believe that those same young men relieved him of a fine gold watch and chain while he was setting up the drinks. He has a very in-distinct recollection of the whole affair, however. Officer Shepard arrested Harry Brown and Joseph Hymans, suspected o being two of the three men who fleeced the third man, who, it 's supposed, has the watch.

CHEVALIER MACCHI NAMED

He Is Appointed Foreign Commission. er for the Canada Exposition.

Chevaller A. Macchi, the capable for-eign commissioner of our exposition, has been signally honored by the management of the big international exposition to be held in Canada next year. He received notice from London yester-day that he had been appointed the foreign commissioner for the Canadian expe-sition. This exposition is an international-affair and is to be held at Montreal from May to November. It is being widely advertised and will be a great exposition. Chevaller Macchi's duties will be the same as they were in connection with the Atlanta exposition. He will look after the important stem of collecting exhibits from the European countries. If he succeeds as well as he did in his mission for our exposition he is the man Canada is after.

STOCKS GROWING RAPIDLY

Showing Increases in the Importan Markets-Exports Improving Slightly-Wheat Higher.

New York, October 11 .- Stocks were quiet again today. The transactions were only 137,907, of which 21,300 were Chicago Gas, 12,200 Burlington & Quincy, 10,300 St. Paul and 10,400 Sugar. In the early trading the market felt the influence of yesterday's favorable report of the government on the year's crop, and prices moved up % to % per cent. Rather sensational reports from Chicago about the freight situation in the west, however, led to a re-actionary movement in the railroad list shortly after the opening, and the gain noted was soon lost. Burlington & Quincy fell to 84%. Northwest to 105, St. Paul to 75% and Rock Island to 76%. In the af-75% and Rock Island to 76%. In the afternoon trading a slight recovery took place owing to covering of short contracts. The industrials, however, monopolized the attention of traders, and of these issues Chicago Gas was the special card and moved up 1½ to 68%. The buying of the stock was due to reports that the Flower-Brady committee had secured a majority of the Fidelity Trust Company receipts and that application will be made receipts and that application will be made shortly to have the Central Trust Com-pany certificates listed on the Stock Exchange. Rumors were current that the opponents of the company named were compelled to make application for an injunction to restrain the reorganization of the property, but it had no influence. Sugar, Leather, Cotton Oil and Tobacco were generally lower. In the inactive issues Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis sold at 80 for 100 shares, against 801/2 on Wednesday. The closing quotation was 70 bid and 90 asked. Illinios Steel advanced 1% to 80%; American Express 1% to 115% nd Bay State Gas % to 22%. The market closed firm, but without animation. Net changes show gains of anywhere from % tol% per cent for the usually active stocks. Sugar preferred lost 1 per cent. Bonds were very irregular. Sales were $1,350,000.

Early Morning Gossip.

Dow, Jones News Co.: The stock mar-ket opened feebly, but prices were gener-ally better for the railway list. The Granger shares were fractionally higher, although morning advices from the west reflected a more demoralized state in Colorado freight rates.

The increased production of wheat and oats indicated by the governments October crop report was of assistance in maintain ing a bull temper.
Chicago Gas opened up % per cent and Sugar sold off nearly a point, but firmed

Tennessee Coal and Iron was heavy and Minnesota Iron declined % per cent.
Confidence in the innmediate outlook of the stock market is not pronounced among Efforts to rally prices do not meet with the success generally desired, and the most regretable feature of the situation is the persistent selling of Americans and speculative secureties for for-eign accounts. There is a good demand even in dull times for sound gold bonds of American railroads on the part of Euro an investors. It is not believed proba-e that the best class of American securities would be sold to any large extent by Europeans should there be a serious dis-turbance in Kaffirs shares within a short time, but there are a great many foreign investors and speculators who bough in this market last spring who have good profits at the present range of values. which they seemed disposed gradually to turn into cash. This pressure is felt the more at this moment because commission house business is so light, and almost the only interests in the market is shown by profit element. he monthly government report of the crops, brokers think, is not likely to play an important part in the speculation. Peran exception may occur in the cot-

The selling of the stock of the Southern railroad was started by the publication of government report on cotton at noo and fears are naturally created that the large deficiency in cotton may materially change the outlook for earnings on some southern roads

London special: I learn by investigation that an influential combination of operators yesterday brought about the general recovery in all classes of stocks in order that the settlement may be carried through successfully. The Kaffirs and American stocks are strongest of all. Louisville and Nashville is the particular-ly strong stock in the American group.

Closing Stock Review.

New York, October 11.-New York News Bureau—The stock market was dull, pro-fessional and irregular. The early strength to a slight support from London and talk of favorable features of the Oc tober government crop report. A reaction followed on discouraging advices as to the rate situation at the west, but covering of shorts again turned prices upward. Late in the afternoon there was renewed strength in Chicago Gas, due to rumors that a majority of the stocks had been deposited with the Central Trust Company.

United States Leather stocks were unusually active, with a weak tone.

Colorado Coal and Iron, Tennessee Coal and Iron and Pulman's were lower.

Sugar fell 1 per cent from the starting point, but subsequently enjoyed an uncer-tain rally.

THE COTTON MARKET.

Atlanta-Middling, quiet, at 8%c. Liverpool-Middling, firm, at 427-32d. New York-Middling, quiet, at 9%c. New Orleans-Middling, steady, at 815-16c.

Daniel O'Dell & Co.'s Cotton Letter.

New York, October 11.—Foreign cables brought good news to the bulls this morning. Early trading in Liverpool had been at 2 to 3-6id decline, but the loss was recovered and 1-6id advance scored before our opening. Sales were 12,000 bales at unchanged prices. The opening here was at 9.02 for January and later it advanced to 9.08. Trading was quiet, and as the interior movement was being posted the tone weakened, January selling down to 8.93. This was followed by another turn upwards to 9.02, and closed at 8.98 to 8.99, being a net advance for the day of 2 points. All the news that could affect the market continues bullish except that relating to receipts, both at the ports and interiors, and it seems futile to endeavor to raise prices while receipts are large. Regarding the probable crop the following figures may be worth considering: Last year's yield, 10,-000,000 bales; acreage reduction this year 15 per cent, 1,500,000—8,500,000; conservative estimate of deterioration 25 per cent, 2,-125,000—this year's crop, 6,375,000. We still addiere to the belief that the usually high price of the staple at this time of the year is a temptation to sell which the planter is unable to resist in view of his unfortunate experience in recent years when he attempted to hold back his crop, and the premature opening of the bolls enable him to rush his product to market earlier than usual. This fully accounts for the large crop movement, compared with former years. New Orleans estimates for tomorrow are 13,000 to 15,000 bales, against 15,211 last year. Total ports today, 40,457, against 47,917 last year, and for the week they are 269,447, against 310,760. Interfors today are estimated at 190,000, against 203,666 last year. The close was quiet. Transactions of the day 266,700. Daniel O'Dell & Co.'s Cotton Letter.

The Dry Goods Market.

New York, October 11.—The attendance of buyers today in the dry goods market has been on a limited scale in all departments and only a quiet spot business has been reported in either cotton or woolen goods. The mails, however, still bring encouraging indications of improved distribution from second-hands and a fairly general call for quick delivery of seasonable fabrics. The condition of staple cottons is without material alteration. The strength of the market for regular prints has been further indicated by the advance of %c to be made in American Indigo blue and shirting prints next Wednesday and all indications point to a higher general level of prices for spring in fancy calicoes also.

New Orleans Crop Statement. New Orleans, October 11.—New Orleans cotton exchange statement from September 1st to October 11th, inclusive: Port receipts 735,521 bales, against 994,438 last year, 741,441 year before last and 732,703 for the same time in 1892. Overland to mills and Canada 42,789, against 75,290 last year, 35,376 year before last and 64,636 for the same time in 1892. Interior stocks in excess of September 1st 166,532, against 128,394 last year, 111,437 year before last and 100,561 for the same time in 1892. Southern takings 115,557, against 104,925 last year, 91,304 year before last and 90,238 for the same time in 1892. Crop brought into sight during 41 days to date 1,111,070, against 1,302,957 last year, 980,553 year before last and 385,108 for the same time in 1892. Crop brought into sight for the week 377,180, against 405,952 for the 7 days ended October 11th last year, 312,164 year before last and 305,483 for the same time in 1892. Crop brought into sight for the first 11 days of October 576,425, against 632,420 last year, 475,309 year before last and 411,839 for the same time in 1892. Comparisons in these reports are made up to the corresponding date last year, year before and in 1892, and not to the close of the corresponding weeks. Comparisons by weeks would take in 42 days of the season last year, 43 year before last and 44 in 1892, against only 41 days this year.

Total Receipts of Cotton at the Ports. The following are the total net receipts of cotton at all ports since September 1, 1893; Galveston 188,627, New Orleans 290,298, Mobile 33,094, Savannah 164,199, Charleston 78,-131, Wilmington 38,927, Norfolk 28,698, Baltimore 655, New York 4,793, Boston 2,512, Newport News 247, Philadelphia 6,401, West Point 12,557, Brunswick 3,154, Texas City 1,000. Riordan & Co.'s Cotton Letter. Riordan & Co.'s Cotton Letter.

New York, October 11.—(Special.)—Liverpool took no notice of yesterday's decline in this market, and our opening today was 7 points higher. January opened at 9.03 and advanced to 9.08, then heavy selling orders came in and prices yielded, January declining to 8.38, but a rally followed, in which January sold up to 9.02. One of the leading local traders then threw heavy blocks of cotton upon the market, causing January to recede to 8.97. The close was quiet and steady, with 8.98 bid for January. The feeling among a large majority of the traders here is distinctly bearish. They think the heavy receipts will surely cause a serious decline. They may be right, but we do not share this view. We do not expect any material decline, and we still favor buying on soft spots. Hubbard Bros. & Co.'s Cotton Letter.

Hubbard Bros. & Co.'s Cotton Letter.

New York, October 11.—Liverpool responded to the bureau report by declining 2 to 2 3-64d, but this was quickly recovered under the influence of American buying orders and advanced to 1-2 point above last evening's prices, closing steady. Locally the market quickly advanced 10 to 12 points under the stimulus of Liverpool, to gradually lose the the mprovement under the liquidation of the outside interest, which waited for the bureau report before accepting the handsome profits accumulated on the advance. The large receipts at the interior towns and the additions to their stocks hastened the selling movement, but the local traders will not sell any cotton short, as they have been so severely punished during the past two months that they will not take a position on the short side. The interior stocks will probably increase 50,900 bales. After the break of the afternoon supporting orders from New Orleans account appeared in the market, advancing prices to the close, which was steady at 2 points advance over last evening. Stocks of interior towns increased 60,000 bales. Late Liverpool cables reported more inquiry among spinners, and a better price is expected there as a result of their buying..

The Sun's Cotton Review.

New York, October 11.—Cotton rose 11 to 2 points, but reacted and fell 2 to 3 points, hen recovered this and advanced 2 to 3 points, closing quiet and steady with sales points, closing quiet and steady with sales of 266,700 bales. Liverpool advanced 1½ points, then reacted and closed steady at a net rise of ½ point, with spot sales of 12,000 bales; sales for the week, 56,000 bales; forwarded from ship's side to spinners, 67,000. New Orleans advanced 12 to 13 points and then lost most of this, late fignires showing a new rise for the day of 2 to 3 points. In Manchester yarns were quiet but steady; cloths quiet. Spot cotton here was 1-16c. lower, with sales of 214 for spinning. The southern spot markets were generally unchanged. Augusta was partially 1-16c. higher.

THE CHICAGO MARKET.

Wheat Advanced in the Face of the Government's Increased Estimate. Chicago, October 11.—Just to prove its in-ependence of news and statistics wheat rose in value today, although in the afternoon the sentiment was of the sort that would argue a decline as the logical course. As if in recognition of the government's estimate of the wheat crop, which was 20,000,000 bushels greater than the one made in September, prices opened ½c. lower than they closed last night, but it seemed as though the report was forgotten immediately afterward, an advance taking place at once. December wheat opened from 59½ to 53% 659½,c. advanced to 61% 691½c., closing at 60% 691½c., alvanced to 61% 691½c., closing at 60% 691½c., alvanced to 61% 691½c., closing at the fact that the government reduced the condition of corn one point did not appear to disturb the equanimity of traders in that grain. Sympathy with wheat still guided the action of values, which were for the most part firm. That the crop is the largest on record is conceded by every one. Aversion to buying is the result of this fact. May corn opened at 23% 623% c., sold between 25% and 25% c., closing at 29629% c., % 4% c. higher than yesterday. Cash corn was firm at ½c. per bushel higher.

Chicago, October 11.—The lowest prices were recorded at the opening, when December wheat sold at 59½c. The market steadily advanced from that figure to 60½c, receding to 60c, but later advancing again to 61½c. The strength was due to buying by Wall Street, also to covering by shorts who feel disposed to take very small losses. Professionals have fought the advance, but their offerings were well taken care of. The Incentive to the New York buying is the very small stock there—only about 1,218,000 their offerings were well taken care of. The incentive to the New York buying is the very small stock there—only about 1,218,000 bushels of No. 2 red winter, against 9,202,000 the same day last year, and it is understood that the milling combine owns all of that. That market was very strong and at one time 7c over the Chicago price. The Liverpool Corn Trade News says that the prospective wheat supplies seem certain to fall behind the probable weekly requirements; that during the past ten weeks only 7,610,000 quarters of breadstuffs had been put afloat, whereas, a very moderate computation requirement for that period amounts to 8,800,000 quarters, some authorities placing them as high as 7,000,000 to 9,200,000 quarters. Receipts in the northwest show a falling off, being 399 cars, against 937 last year. Minneapolis reports a good demand there, prices paid from ¼ to %c over December. They also report that farmers are selling less freely. It looks to us as if capitalists are doing considerable buying, especially on the weak spots. Men who have made lots of money in cotton are turning their attention to wheat on account of the low prices prevailing and will probably continue to buy on all declines. The export demand seems to be better than for some time and clearances during the past two days have amounted to over 1,000,000 bushels. While prices may sag back to 60c, there seems to be good buying orders under that figure.

October and November corn opened weak, about ¼c under yesterday's closing, but under liberal buying by a local party advanced from ¾ to %c. This buying appears to have been for short account. May advanced from % to %c. This buying appears to have been for short account. May advanced from % to %c. This buying appears to have been for short account.

RACED FOR A BELT

Piremen from Six States Engage In An Interesting Contest.

OHIO BOYS WIN THE PRIZE

It Is Made of Gold and Studded with Diamonds-Some Close Finishes Between Other Hose Teams.

A flash light start and a flash light finish for a fireman's race was never known in the country until yesterday.

It was in Atlanta, where everything that is new and interesting happens, that the lad-dies who have a pride in being first in the records of fire fighters that the racing, which usually takes place under the light of the sun, was pulled of under brilliant and dazzling lights.

The race was one of the most interesting and entertaining events the exposition has shown the large crowds that have been out since the opening day. Of the large throng on the grounds fully 5,000 scattered along the race track or secured other points of clever observation where every inch if the track could be seen from the second the gong sounded until the judge dropped the flag showing that the run had been completed. Those who gave their time and attention to the race and saw the ten events the visiting fire companies had arranged for them by the visiting fire chiefs, Chief Joyner, of the Atlanta de- | was complete the judge at that end dropped strong youngsters, each wearing a look of confidence. confidence.

The company from Greensboro, N. C., came next, and a favorable impression the men made upon the spectators. One after another the companies appeared at the starting point, and at 3 o'clock every company of the entries, except one, the Central Hose Company, of Bradford, Pa., was under the observation of Mr. Larry W. Clark, the director general of the races, and the judges. The reel, one of the prettiest and lightest pieces of machinery for fire fighters ever seen in the south, was at the starting point.

Director General Clark stated that the Independence Company, of Martin's Ferry, Independence Company, of Martin's Ferry, O., had drawn first place, and that they would make the first run. Then teh positions of te other companies were announced and the men began preparing for the work.

The hose cart was standing near the wire and the electric bell, from which the run was to start. The point was right in front of the main entrance to The Constifront of the main entrance to The Consti-tution building on the grounds and from the windows and balcony of that building many saw the interesting contest.

For 200 yards the men pulled together for the water plus. Along in the lead of the company was the nozzle man with nozzle in hand, while behind him were the men who were to make the connection at the plug. At the water plug the hosemen grabbed the line, while the men pulling the reel and the nozzle men went on as though nothing had happened. Section after section of the line was rolled off as the men were making the connection at the hydrant, the pullers reaching for the line a hundred yards away. There the line was broken, leaving the last section of the hose still on the cart. At the last line of white across the track, a line made out of salt so that it would not be rubbed out, the last one of the pipemen and the nozzle man made the connection. Then when the connection partment, and Mr. I. W. Clark, proprietor of The Fireman's Herald, of New York, the only paper published in America given up wholly to the firemen of the country, were not only immensely delighted, but were absolutely lost to the fact that there was any one else on the exposition grounds than themselves.

Prominent in the crowd which lined both sides of the race track were some of the most prominent and best known men of the city. Captain Robert J. Lowry, Messrs. J. H. Mecaslin, John Berkele, Captain Naliv. Mr. Jerry Lynch, Charles Beermann and others who were once leaders in Atlanta's fire department when the department not only worked for nothing, but bought their own machinery, were prominent in the throng of spectators. Each wore a badge of the old Atlanta fire department.

And not until the last of the ten races had been run did one of the old veterans, now the persion roll of the hearts of Aton the pension roll of the hearts of Atlantians, leave his point of observation.

Independent Hose Company, of Martin's Ferry, O., carried the run in forty-five seconds, and won the first place and the handsome prize. The company had never entered a contest of the kind before outside its own state. Its members are all own state. Its members are all young, healthy looking, strong and quick, and the manner in which they went about their work showed that they not only knew what they were undertaking, but that they had been systematically for the race.

When the signal to start was given the team sped down the track. Strength to pull the cart, sprinting to reach the point, wind to complete the run and coolness to prevent any break, were all found in the poys from the Buckeye State, but not in any other team on the list.

Captain Jennings, was on hand to keep the crowd back, while Chief Joyner detailed a number of men to aid the police captain in his work. The races were booked to open at 3 o'clock, and at 2:30 the first company came upon the field. It was the Tiger Hose Company, of Fernandina, Fla. The company was twenty strong. The company showed a crowd of work in forty-five seconds.

Fernandina Hose Company No. 2, of Fernandina, Fla., had drawn second place, and the members of that company went to the reel where the Ohio boys had left it. They reeled the hose and pulled the cart back to the starting point and made ready quickly for their trot. It took eighteen minutes from the time the Ohio boys stopped for the Florida boys to get ready im the run, and less time was consumed by that company in making ready for the run than by and other company in the contest. The Fernandinas got a clever easy start, and the judge at the stopping place dropped his flag fifty-eight seconds later.

The Tarheels came next. The company from the Old North State was registered as the Greensboro Hose Company, of Greensoro, N. C. It went away in good shape and routed the end of the race in fifty-one and three-quarters.

The First Ward Hose Company, of Butler, Pa., took the starting point at 4:05 o'cleck. That company has just thrown away the withered laurels it won a month ago in the state tournament of Pennsylvania, and there were no few who did not want a chance to gamble on the Butler's winning out in the race. The time showed that the champions of Pennsylvania had taken one second more than the Ohio boys. It was shown, too, that the company had failed to make the connection at the nozthrown out by the timekeepers and sent to the judges with the record of time for their consideration.

The Fernandina hose company, known as Tiger Hose Company No. 1, made the run in 62% seconds.

The hose company from Rome came on with lots of noise from the crowd. The chief of that department asked to have chief of that department asked to have the track rolled again and give the company the same chance the first team had, but the request was refused. Sixty seconds went on the board when the run of the Romans was over.

The E. W. Clark Hose Company, of Grinnell, Ia., a company which has won many prizes and which today stands the champions of the state in which the members live, made the jump strong favorites as they were in forty-six. The company fatted to make the connection at the hytalled to make the connection at the hydrant and two seconds were added, making their time forty-eight. The timekeepers made a record of the matter and sent that case to the judges, too.

The New Berne, N. C., team came up

The New Berne, N. C., team came up with the good wishes of the crowd, and as they reeled the hose the electric light had to be turned on for their aid. The company showed a well-built crowd of boys, who have out a challenge to the world for $1,000, and they worked well. Their speed was the best shown on the track, but the men were slow at the nozzie, and the company went on record at 51½. and the company went on record at 51½.

It was then too dark to get the start by the flags and flash lights were made to the mags and mass mights were made to send the men off with the tap of the gong, while the same was used to make the completion of the run. Ocala Hose Company No. 4, of Ocala, Fla., tood the scratch was the mights were on and pany No. 4, of Ocala, Fia., toed the scratch on the run after the lights were on, and spun the course in 51. The Marion Hose Company, of Ocala, made the last run and covered the track in 55%.

The prize for the winners, the Ohio boys, The prize for the wifners, the Ohio boys, is a magnificent gold belt, of sections, and valued at $1,000. The center plate shows that it was awarded by C. G. Braxmar, of New York, at the Cotton States and In-

New York, at the Cotton States and International exposition. The two sections next to it on either side carry beautifully engraved designs of the fireman's work and of the exposition, while the other sections are left to be filled by the winners of the belt hereatter. To the belt $250 in gold will be added.

The second prize is the hose cart, which was used in the race, with $100 in gold added, but which of the companies making the time next to the Ohio boys will get it, cannot be told until after the judges are through with their work this morning, at Ch'ef Joyner's office, where the protests will be heard and the judgment rendered. The races today will begin at 2 o'clock, and will be:

3. Individual foot races, open to the members of the companies who have been in the contests.

Last night at the Aragon a very happy incident occurred among the fire chiefs who are here on a visit from all parts of the country. It was the presentation of a silver service, made by Mr. Herbert Hester, superintendent of the fire service of the Pennsylvania railroad system, at Philadeiphia, on behalf of The Herald fire-men's party, to Mr. and Mrs. Larry Clark, editor of The Firemen's Herald, of New York city. The presentation speech was filled with pathos and indicated, as well as evidenced, the high estimation in which Mr. Clark is held by the firemen. His response was one of emotion. He was almost overcome by the surprise and the spirit in which the token of esteem came. As soon as he recovered from his emotion he expressed his deep gratitude for the token of love from the gallant firemen. "Mr. and Mrs. L. Clark, from The Herald's

A Georgia barbecue was the feature of the day and around this savory center the pleasures of the day revolved. It was given by the Venable Brothers as a compliment to the mining engineers and the full strength of the organization turned out in acceptance of the invitation. A special train for the scene of the barbecue left the city at 10:15 o'clock. With-in a few minutes from that time 250 mining engineers alighted in the shadow of mountain. After the barbecue was served in the ample fashion for which the Venables are noted Dr. David T. Day proposed three cheers for the clever hosts of the occasion. These were lustily given, after which Mr. W. H. Venable was called upon for a speech. He responded in a brief but ele-quent manner and paid a glowing tribute o the engineers. Hon. Joseph D. Weeks, the president of the association, was the next speaker. He entertained his hearers for several minutes in his bright, original, captivating way. Mr. Weeks is the special agent of the United States geological survey and editor of The American Manufacturer and Iron World. The next speech was made by Dr. Rossiter W. From Asheville they go to Washington, D. C., on Wednesday, adjourning at the national capital.

SEVERAL SUITS FOR DAMAGES. It Was a Fruitful Day for Such Documents in the Clerk's Office. Several suits for various kinds of damages were filed yesterday in the office of Judge G. H. Tanner, clerk of the superior court. Angeline Burch filed suit for $10,000 damages for the killing of her husband, Tim Burch. She alleges that he was killed without the slightest warning being given him and that it was the company's negligence alone that caused it. William Langston files a suit against the Atlanta Consolidated street railway company for $5,000 damages. He alleges that along yith several other employes of the Consolidated he was carrying a heavy piece of boiler plate when one of the others let it slip. He was thrown down and seriously injured. Simon Brown, a vender of several sorts Simon Brown, a vender of several sorts of toys, enters suit against H. C. Becrman for punitive damage to the extent of $5,000 damages. He claims that he was selling toys in front of Beerman's store and was ordered to move away and was then arrested by direction of Beerman. He was released by the recorder and says he should have punitive damages to the amount mentioned.

Members of Three Press Associations Delighted with the City.

SAY THE EXPOSITION IS GREAT

The Alabama editors were out in force vesterday and attended the exercises in the Alabama building. There was to have been a meeting of the Alabama Press Association yesterday, but it will occur at noon today instead. There are more than one hundred Alabama editors, and they are all jolly good fellows.

The Indiana editors are enthusiastic over the exposition. It is the first visit of many of them to Atlanta, and a great many of the editors went to the grounds in the morning and later in the day visited a number of historic spots about the city. Several of them were in evidence uring the exchange of shots between the during the exchange of shots between the north and the south, and yesterday they met a number of veterans from both sides. Some of the Indiana editors left last night but the majority of them will not leave before next week. Some of them will return directly home, while others will take a trip to Florida before going back to the routine work of the newspaper show. The routine work of the newspaper shop. The visitit to Atlanta, according to the lifting men themselves, has been a revelation to many. All had some idea of the exposition, but declare that their best hopes have been more than realized.

The Virginia editors enjoyed yesterday. Having transacted all their association work at the July meeting, they had naught work at the July meeting, they had naught to do but visit the exposition grounds. They held a meeting during the morning, how-ever, to hear a report regarding the trip to Nashville. All arrangements being sat-isfactory, the members of the Virignia Press Association decided to go to Nash-ville. They left last night at 8:20 o'clock over the Western and Atlantic road. over the Western and Atlantic road.

The trip to Nashville is taken on the invitation of Major Wills, the director general of the Nashville Centennial. The Virerai of the Nashville Centennial. The virginians will remain in Nashville during all of today, and will leave tonight. They will come back to Atlanta Sunday and will remain until the middle of the week. Many of them say that they will return on Virginia and the control of the say that they will return on Virginia and the control of the say that they will return on Virginia and the control of the say that they will return on Virginia and the control of the say that they will return on Virginia and the control of the say that they will return on Virginia and the say that they will return on Virginia and the say that they will return on Virginia and the say that they will return on Virginia and the say that they will return on Virginia and the say that they will return on Virginia and will be say that they will return on Virginia and will be say that they will return on Virginia and will be say that they will return on Virginia and will be say that they will return on Virginia and will be say that they will return on Virginia and will be say that they will return on Virginia and will be say that they will return on Virginia and will be say that they will return on Virginia and will be say that they will return on Virginia and will be say that they will return on Virginia and will be say that they will return on Virginia and will be say that they will return on Virginia and will be say that they will return on Virginia and will be say that they will return on Virginia and will be say they will return on Virginia and will be say they will return on Virginia and will be say they will return on Virginia and will be say they will return on Virginia and will be say they will return on Virginia and will be say they will be say they will return on Virginia and will be say they will be say ginia day, which is October 23d. Going To Visit His Old Home. 'I leave for home tonight," said Colonel A. S. Chapman, secretary of the Southern Indiana Press Association, but I tell you neither my wife nor myself like to depart from Atlanta. In fact, there is out one reason why we leave now before but one reason why we leave now before the latter part of next week.

"It may sound a little sentimental," continued the colonel, smiling, "but the truth is my wife and I are going back to my oid home. It has been forty years since I was there. It is in White county. My father took his family from there and went to California. I have never been back. The old home was then away from a railroad, and now it is right in the center of a town. We intend to spend Suner of a town. We intend to spend Sun day there. I have been wanting to take the trip there a lnog time. It is in west-ern Indiana."

Delighted with Atlanta.

"Well, I am truly delighted with Atlan-," said Mr. G. R. Craft, of The Tribune, Wabash, Ind. "I have often read of south ern hospitality, and just as often read of Atlanta. It has never been my pleasure, until now, to observe either. Now, I can truly say that they are comparable. Why, I wanted to have some cards printed and ent into a printing office of got the name in my valise-it was on Broad street. I gave my name and asked the price for a hundred. He said there would be no charges. I was completely astound. ed. And that is the way it has been ever since our arrival here.

"As for your exposition—it is great. It far surpasses anything I had expected to see. Instead of being an over-grown county fair, it is a handsome, compact edition of the Chicago exposition. Atlanta, too, surprised me. You have a great city here. I have no idea when I shall leave. I should like to spend the wintre here."

Fought Around Atlanta.

"In Virginia," said Major E. H. Bar-clay, of the Virginia Press Association, "we know The Constitution as the greatest of southern papers, and we all revere the memory of Henry W. Grady. I heard him when he made his great speech. I was with the confederate army and fought all around Atlanta. I got this "-indicating an empty sleeve-later. I was also wounded at Chickamauga. I admire Atlanta's pluck, and think the exposition superb."

He Is Really a Georgian.

Mr. William Marion Weeks, treasurer of the Alabama Press Association, is a Geor-gian. He was born in Floyd county, Geor-gia, in February, 1845, and his parents moved to Alabama when he was four years old. It is likely that had be had his own choice in the matter he would have re-mained in Georgia always. However, at the age of twelve he returned to Georgia. going to Rome, where he worked in a newspaper office. Later he returned to Alabama and then again returned to Rome, being all the while in the newspaper profession. Again he returned to Alabama and volunteered in Campany B, Forty-first Alabama regiment, fighting in the confed-erate service until the end of the war. He returned to Alabama after the war and when he married moved to Atlanta, remaining here three years. He returned to Alabama once again and has remanied there since, and with his son is proprietor of The Times-News. He is a charter mem-ber of the Alabama Press Association and served for several terms as vice president. He was president two years and was on the executive committee until last year, when he was elected treasurer. He is vice president of the Queen City bank at Gadsden and is one of the largest property owners in north Alabama.

A Bright Young Newspaper Man. One of the cleverest members of the Indiana Press Association party is J. E. Sutton, of Logansport, Ind. He is a well-known young writer and has done considerable journalistic work for western papers. He has just published a bright and interesting series of European letters, which were syndicated this summer. Personally he is an attractive man, and has made many friends in Atlanta.

Many Ladies in the Party. Many Ladies in the Party.

The Virginia editors brought along their mothers, their wives or their daughters and in consequence have nearly as many ladies in the party as men. Two of the most charming young ladies are Miss Eleanor Hays Barclay and Miss Patten. Miss Barclay is the niece of Major Barclay and is a cousin of Mrs. L. N. Trummell, the wife of Commissioner Trammell. Miss Patton is a niece of Major Barclay.

An Advance Guard.

An Advance Guard.

The advance guard of the lowa editors reached here last night and registered at the Marion hotel. The party was composed of the following named gentlemen:

Charles T. Chandler, Port C. Baron, Frederick Gilchrist, L. C. Thornton, W. W. Robinson, H. E. Cody and R. McDonald.

Who is in closer sympathy with humanity, its needs and its sufferings, than any man who is alive today, says:

"Go through a crowd of people, preferably city people, examine their tired, anxious, wasted faces; re-member your life and the lives of those whom you have known inti-mately; recall the many sad cases of sickness and sorrow of which you have heard, and ask yourself the reason of all this suffering and despair. And you will see, however, strange it may appear, that the cause of nine-tenths of human misery is some chronic weakness or disease, that this suffering is useless, that it could be avoided, and that the majority of people whose lives are darkened by ill health might be strong, vigorous and happy."

Coupled with the words of this grand man is the great truth that four-fifths of all diseases arise from kidney, liver or bladder complaints. Can you not readily see, then, why that magnificent remedy, Warner's Safe Cure, is so popular? It is because it prevents these troubles or cures them if taken in time. If you doubt this ask any educated, well-informed dector, druggist or professional man.

Colonel J. S. Cunningham, of North Carolina, said to be the largest tobacco grower in the world, discussed the subject of "Tobacco" in different phases and invested the matter with a large degree of interest. Hon. John D. Clardy, of Kentucky, also a large producer of the weed, handled the tobacco question with the vigor of an athlete and the skill of an expert. A lady delegate from Penrsylvania, Mrs.

Heston, said that in her state tobacco was a robber of the soil and depreciated the value of the land. Hon. H. R. Walworth, of Baltimore, editor of The Maryland Farmer, said that in Maryland tobacco not only robbed the soil of its fertility, but man of his man-hood. He was not in favor of tobacco. J. B. McDonald, of Nebraska, said that he had settled the tobacco question in a few minutes. He "burns the weed." Venezuela Heard From. Senor Francisco Javier Yanes, of Venezuela, discussed the commercial relations of American republics in an able manner. He discussed commercial relations be-tween the Spanish-American republics and the commercial relations of the United States with Spanish-America. He urged reciprocity and freer trade relations. Hon. The Night Session.

At the night session Hon. H. E. Stock-bridge, of North Dakota, presided, while President Clayton indulged in a glowing tribute to the worth of woman, whom he considered as the equal of man and entitled to share the honors and privileges of men. He introduced Mrs. L. G. Chapman, of Illinois, a lady of handsome personnelle, who treated the theme of "The Sunshine and Shadow of Farm Life" in a manner which charmed every hearer and delighted the congress. It was a splendid piece of word painting, replete with exalted sentiment, poetic inspirations, gemmed with beauty and permeated by sound sense. Hon. John H. Brigham, in a speech of after complimenting Mrs. Chapman's address, spoke at length on the educational influence of the National Grange and its beneficial effects on the body politic.

A. V. Stout, of Iowa, and John Brundage, of New York, sustained Mrs. Chapman's address in excellent efforts.

The discussion of "An American Marine-

Its Utility, Creation and Maintenance," by William W. Bates, of Michigan, was an exceedingly able one and elicited applause. The paper was referred to the committee on resolutions with instructions to report Hon. D. G. Parse exhibited to the congress

Mr. Blacknall is a young man of sterling worth, great energy and a record for business fidelity second to none. As general manager of the store with which he was lately connected he built up a reputation and character for himself that is gratifying not only to his many friends, but to all with whom he has been associated. He invites his former patrons and friends, and for that matter, everybody who desires fresh, up-to-date groceries of all kinds, at the lowest possible cash price, to call and see him. His store is a marvel of neatness and convenience. There a good housekeeper can find everything that she wants. It will no doubt be to your interest to visit his store and see for yourself what an attractive and desirable place it is for you to do business. Mr. Blacknall will receive the

Several Thousand Cheered the Aquatic

Performers on the Lake. THE PROGRAMME WAS GOOD

Bicycle and the Boys Walked the Greasy Pole. A large crowd was attracted to the exposition yesterday by the unusually interesting and varied programme. The firemen's contest in the afternoon and the equuatic sports on Clara Meer drew large audiences and all were satisfied with what they saw. The buildings were not deserted at any time during the day and the long aisles were filled with throngs of people who went out to study the exposi-Old Liberty bell, hushed and silent, was 'the object which was probably given the most attention by the visitors. All who were at the grounds yesterday stopped in to see the bell and talk of its mission. There was a continual passing of people all day in the Pennsylvania building and the guards were kept busy explaining the history of the bell and the manner in which it lost its mellow tone.

The work of Adolphus King on the lake was especially good and several thousand people watched him as he performed his marvelous feats. With all the ease and grace of a professional he rode his bicycle over the waters of the lake. His water wheel, which consumed several years of his life to perfect, is built on the style of the ordinary high-wheeled bicycle. The large wheel in front if covered with little buckets instead of pneumatic tires and as the wheel is turned by the pedals the water is caught in the tiny buckets and the wheel is propelled at a marvelous rate of speed under the circumstances.

The greasy pole, which extended out over the water, was a source of much pleasure to the lookers on. The pole was made perfectly slick with grease and on the end was attached a small flag. The pole was about thirty feet in length and it took a daring person to attempt to walk to the end and take from its place the flag. As soon as the pole was placed in position a score of boys, in bathing suits, climbed up and began to walk towards the coveted prize. The boys would get about half way to the flag, when their feet would slip and headforward into the icy depths they would fall. Time and time again the attempt was made and in a few minutes the lake was full of disappointed contestants. They would climb back and with the poise and balance of a rope performer would make the start. Again they would be dashed off into the water. Finally a little fellow, after many unsuccessful attempts, suc ceeded in reaching the goal and as he fell he snatched the prize and both went into the water together.

Swimming After Ducks. After the greasy pole performance a number of live ducks were thrown into the lake and the boys darted in to catch them. For every duck that was overtaken and captured a prize was offered. The lake was dotted with heads as the con-testants swam and paddled in the water. The ducks were persued and most of them managed to escape.

In the crowd that was chasing the ducks was a little negro boy, who was very ven-turesome for his age. He was in the cold water for several hours and was finally overcome with an attack of cramps. When overcome with an attack of cramps. When the attack first came on the little fellow called to one of the electric launches that was passing and told the engineer to come to his aid. The boatman thought the boy was joking and continued around the lake. The negro pulled manfully for the shore, but sank in a few feet of the edge. The crowd rushed to the scene and he was pulled out by two negro men who had witnessed his struggles in the water. When he was taken out from the lake he was un-conscious and was thought by those who were the first to arrive to be dead. Dr. Andrews, one of the party who came down with the Liberty bell, was the first physin to reach the strangling negro and he at once went to work to resuscitate him.
Dr. Baird was on the grounds and so was
Dr. Earnest. Both physicians went to the rescue and worked and rubbed the boy in order to restore consciousness. The negro was removed to the hospital ward in the woman's building and stimulants were ad ministered. After several hours he regain-ed consciousness, but had not sufficiently recovered last night to tell his name. He will recover.

Following Miss Block was the remarkably clear and forceful address of Mrs.

"My Only Family Medicine." "My Only Family Medicine."
"I have been a user of Simmons Liver Regulator for many years, having made it my own family medicine. My mother before me was very partial to it. I find the Regulator very safe and reliable as a family medicine, and have used it for any disorder of the system and found it to act like a charm. I have often recommended it to my friends, and shall continue to do so."—Rev. J. M. Rollins, Pastor M. E., church, south, Fairfield, Va.

ON SOCIAL PURITY to impart truly scientific knowledge with religious instruction, concerning the simplest physiological facts, which are the foundation of individual and social purity. "This league is the only organization to the convergence of both men and Mrs. Elizabeth Granniss Reads a Paper in this country composed of both men and women associated for mutual counsel and labors, with equal voting privileges.

"The league seeks at all times and under all conditions all conditions to magnify the advantages and points to be gained in human effort by maintaining a foundation of individual and social purity, while it does not cease to attack any and all modern individual and national size of branches. and national sins of impurity. Aid from the Press.

"The attitude of the press of today to this subject is quite improved, and many a conscientious reporter serves as a noble missionary by aiding the league in its efforts. "Where is the faithful parent who, after earnest thought, would not prefer his or her son and daughter to receive instruction concerning scientific and physiological concerning scientific and physiological facts, and how to preserve themselves pure and spotless, rather than take the risk of ignorance in entering upon the most responsible relations in life?

"We have no time nor space awarded us to refer to what the league has accomplished and is doing to prevent the rapid increase of feticide in high life, or in the lowest human degradation.

Working for Legislation. "The Christian League has had several bills before the state legislature of New York, among which is one for the protection of the marriage relation. We have no law in New York state for the last forty years, with a penalty affixed for the break-law in New York state for the last forty years, with a penalty affixed for the breaking of the seventh commandment. This bill has been claiming the attention of the legislature during the past four years. It is in effect that any person convicted of breaking the seventh commandment shall be imprisoned for not less than one year, or more than five; and fined not less than $1,000 or more than $5,000.

"The sin of adultry is punishable in New York state only by absolute divorce, which is in most cases no punishment at all for the guilty party, and just what the innocent and injured party dreads more than any other affliction.

"Senator O'Connor stated last winter, during one of the morning sessions of the Lexow investigation, that if this bill could be passed, he believed it would be a more powerful agent in restricting the social evil, than any plan that could be devised. Yet, when he returned to the legislature, the bill was not brought forward to any successful issue. While Senators O'Connor, Pound, Saxton and a number of others nobly gave their names to vote in the affirmative for this bill, no one was willing to champion it because different men said in substance that most of the legislators would oppose the bill: that this one, that one and the other one said among the law makers that it would place the whiphandle in the hands of unprincipalled women to blackmail men high in official position. Does any sensible mind reason thus, that a law to prevent theft and many other forms of vice, affords a pretext to women or men to blackmail men who are innocent in any position. To punish one who commits adultery would have no different result? A man may be jalled for stealing a pair of shoes or a loaf of bread. Is it to be supposed that innocent men are any more likely to be blackmailed in regard to unchastity because there is a law against the sin of adultery to punish criminals?

The Divorce Laws.

The Divorce Laws. "The effect of such a law would prove lecidedly beneficial by preventing reckess husbands from boasting of their illicit relations and shamelessly offering hese proofs to their wives as a cause for invoces."

'Louisiana, Delaware and New York are the only states in the union without any semblance of law for the protection of the sembiance of law for the protection of the marriage relation.

"Divorce is the just retribution of improper and unholy marriages, and the most prolific cause of divorce is unchastity on the part of men.

"A vast number of wives and mothers apply from time to time at the headquarters of the league for counsel concerning their duty and privileges in severing the marriage relation.

"We believe the church should aid the state to secure better laws in regard to marriage and divorce, in addition to giving wholesome counsel with reference to training and fitness for successful marriages. Any child who is old enough to have ever heard marraige spoken of will not be in any sense injured by hearing from the lips of parents and teachers something of the necessary preparations for and the sacredness of marital and parental relations.

For an Equal Standard of Purity.

For an Equal Standard of Purity. "The league is archaevesly striving to agitate public opinion in the interest of a higher and equal standard of purity among those who do not believe that a life of strict chastity is as desirable and possible for men as for women.

"Watever enhances the value of purity in women is equally binding upon man, and especially men who desire to assume the responsibility of heads of families and participate in creating model homes. The the responsibility of neads of families and participate in creating model homes. The highest happiness, as truly as the largest usefuness, must be obtained on the foundation of a successful home.

"Though it is generally admitted that the Americans make the best husbands and probably as worthy fathers as can be found among fany nationality, still this country needs a higher standard of fatherhood, which is equally essential to the highest as to the lowest stratum of society.

Work for Thoughtful Minds. Work for Thoughtful Minds.

"The great social problems which are resting so heavily upon the nation and upon all others in fact must be carefully worked out by the best and most thoughtful minds.

"Indulgence in various forms of impurity has been the ruin of great empires and ful minds.

"Indulgence in various forms of impurity has been the ruin of great empires and whole nations. In view of foreign immigration, sedentary habits, wealth and luxury in the United States let us think soberly, and study the higher and better social sciences which must ever agree with the revealed word of God.
"It is equally demoralizing to men to be esteemed for money earning or for financial success as providers to the exclusion of domestic and social qualities as it is for women to be esteemed ornaments in society or neat housekeepers to the neglect of exercising thoughtful judgment and the higher moral qualities.

"The Christian League has been obliged to solve many problems for both skilled and unskilled girl and women wage earners, and to this end an industrial home for the benefit of self-supporting women has been opened at No. 5 East Twelfth street, in New York city. The property, worth $40,000, was purchased by one of the members by paying $5,000 down. This woman member assumes all financial indebtedness and has agreed to carry the home for one year from the lst of May, 1895. There is a mortgage of $34,000 on the property. It is expected that the income of the home will pay one-half more of the running expenses the first year, and that it will become self-supporting the second or third year.

"Last month the income was little more than half the running expenses, which includes the interest money, taxes, gas bills, coal bills and service, which amounts to about $4,000 a year, exclusive of the time."

"No girl or woman who is able in mind or body to earn any money is supplied with food and shelter without rendering some service for the same.

"The home is conducted entirely on the

How They Work. "The home is conducted entirely on the "The home is conducted entirely on the family plan.
"We want family homes, God's arrangement, which is always the truest to nature. Segregation, according to class, caste or age, is certainly wrong, if God created all men free and equal. The ignorant, the atased, must be sanctified by the wise, by the intelligent and by the virtuous. The young are destined to comfort and inspire the old, and the old are to care for and instruct the young.

Inmates of the Home.

Inmates of the Home. Inmates of the Home.

"Numerous pathetic cases of interest have found shelter and comfort in this Christian League home.

"Cultured, intellectual women, who receive salaries of from $25 per week down to $2.50, have been guests in the home. There is no conglomeration or unpleasant association of uncongental persons. A refined woman and her daughter, who pay only 75 cents per week, have a roam which rents for $6, and they receive the same hearty welcome as she who pays $6 for the rent of her doom, and the difference in price is known only to the management.

"The regular prices of the rooms are from $1.50 to $5 per week. Good beds are furnished at 25 cents per night, although many persons have been sheltered and supplied with food, who paid not one penny, snown of the home is derived from penny.

"The income of the home is derived from the renting of the rooms, the sewing department, the industrial store, clerical and laundry departments.

"There has been no special effort made to obtain donations, the management believing that when the home was thoroughly established, free-will offerings would be forthcoming. There has been just $53 contributed outside of the woman wao has made herself responsible for all financial obligations for the first year. This woman earned the money used in this effort. Food is furnished at from 2 cents upward.

Men Are Not Excluded.

"Men are in no sense excluded from this home, as it is the conviction of the management that self-supporting women are quite as capable of being entrusted with every social privilege that can safely be awarded to the beneficiaries of rich men, whether they are wives, mothers or daughters. The family in this home has numbered from twenty-two to forty-three persons.

"Among the guests of the home have been husbands and wives, brothers and sisters, mothers and babics, deserted wives, unmarried women in great extremity, and many successful wage-carners, teachers, professional nurses, artists, sew-

"Although the family has averaged about forty in this home, established for the benefit of self-supporting girls and women, there have not been more than from two to four gentlemen guests at a time in the home. This naturally insures an advantage in popularity to the few gentlemen.
"I am glad to announce here that there has not been the slightest unpleasant episode since the home was opened up to the time I started for Atianta, on account of self-supporting women not being segregated in this home, or placed under any stereotyped code of rules.

aggressive efforts. The workers believe in the assurance that we can do all things, God helping us. We have evidence that good and prayerful men and women are pledging themselves more and more to furthering the cause which we are striving to serve.

"Through this exposition we earnestly and cordially invite the Christian people of the south to give their names as members to the National Christian League for the Promotion of Social Purity, and share in its sacrifices and successes for the sake of their children, and the coming citizens of our nation."

Mrs. Avary's Paper. Mrs. Rachel Foster Avery, who has been ich a powerful factor here in the nation al council of women, read a deep and in-teresting address on the "Wimo Daught-ers." She to... many interesting things about the organization in which she has been interested, and is a woman whose in-terest, influence and sympathy would asure any organization with success. Mrs. Avery has made many friends since her visit to Atlanta, and is a woman in sympathy with all that pertains to the elevation and progress of ber sex.

A Reception Today. Tomorrow afternoon the woman's board of managers, in appreciation of the distinguished body of women meeting under their auspices, will entertain Mrs. Mary Lowe Lockinson and the national council of women at an informal reception in as-sembly hall. Mrs. Dickinson's position of honor and responsibility as president of such a powerful body of women, indicates her intellectual superiority and nobility of character. Although she presides with a dignity and firmness that is wonderful, she is nevertheless a woman of the gent-lest manner. There is a sympathetic tender-ness in her voice and speech that make her a queen among women socially as well as in more practical positions.

The programme for today is as follows:

THE SOCIAL SIDE.

The reception at Mrs. A. B. Steel's yes-terday afternoon and last evening was in every way a charming affair. Mrs. Steele's handsome home was beautifully decorated for the occasion, and presented a most interesting scene. There were many of the noted visitors present and everything com-bined to make the event an altogether delighful one. Mrs. Steele is an ideal hostess.

Those who received with her were Mrs.
Raoul, Mrs. Collier, Mrs. Howell, Mrs.
Ottley, Mrs. Lowry, Mrs. Hagan, Mrs.
Gordon, Mrs. Tyler, Miss Many, Miss Collier, Miss Ray, Miss Hemphill, Miss Raoul and others.

After a four months' stay abroad Colonel Benjamin F. Abbott and Mrs. Abbott have returned to Atlanta. During their European travels they were accompanied by Miss Josie King, Mrs. Abbott's niece, and by Miss Julia Gerding, of Edgewood. They visited England and the continent and report a delightful trip. The many friends of Miss Lillie Bell Tolbert will be glad to learn of her return home.

Miss Helen B. Matthews, of Washington, D. C., is in Atlanta for a few days at the Kimball. Miss Matthews is connected with the Southern Railway Company and is also a prominent worker in the League of Loyal Women at Washington. She is of Loyal women at washington. She is here for the purpose of arranging for accommodations for those who will take advantage of a series of excursions which the Southern proposes to run from Washington to the exposition, more especially for the many women who otherwise would be unable to attend without escort.

A SAD STORY.

A Contrywoman Tells of Her Desertion and Condition.

Mattie Eason, a country woman claiming o be from Fayette county, called at police to be from Fayette county, called at police headquarters yesterday and told a pathetic story of ruin and desertion by her former lover, Sol Carden. With her she brought a three-years-old, half-witted, helpless child, which she expects to leave in the care of some institution here. The child is dumb, and paralyzed and is idiotic. The woman says that she was deserted by Carden some time ago and despite her efforts she has been unable to locate him. She thinks that he went to Alabama, but to what place she has no knowledge. The woman says that she lives on the farm of Charles Mitchell, about four miles from Fayetteville. She formerly lived in Campbell and Douglas counties and has relatives in one of those counties. Cantal Wright in one of those counties. Captain Wright made an effort to get the child in the home for the friendless yesterday, but that institution declined to receive it on account of its being an idiot. The woman remained at police headquarters all day and last night. She and the child made a pitiful spectacle. Chief Connoily will see what can be done in the case today.

ENTERTAINED BY THE GUARD. JACKSONVILLE LIGHT INFANTRY SPENT A PLEASANT EVENING.

The Gate City Guard Will Invite the Fifth Regiment Volunteers To Assist Them.

The Gate City Guards entertained the Jacksonville Light Infantry in an infor-mal way last night. Captain Burke had the men form in line and a general introduction followed. Captain Driscoll, of the Light Infantry, and his wife were present The evening was spent most pleasantly. After the social portion of the evening the Guards held a meeting and discussed the arrangements for President's day. The Gate City Guard is in full charge of that day.

At last night's meeting the members unanimously decided to invite the follow. ing militia organizations to join with Fifth Regiment United States Regulars

This Is Professional Woman's Day at the Fair.

RICH PROGRAMME READY

Will Meet at 10:30 This Morning in the Auditorium-Mrs. Antrim Will Talk.

The Congress of Professional Women, which begins at 10:30 o'clock this morning, will be one of the most interesting of al the congresses.

A programme rich in excellent and entertaining features has been prepared and a morning of rare pleasure is promised those who go. Music, literature, recitation and bright papers will add to the brilliancy of the occasion.

Among those on the programme is Mrs. Minnie Thomas Antrim, of Philadeiphia, one of the most brilliant women who has appeared at any of the congresses. She will deliver a talk on "Physical Culture and Artistic Care of the Body as a Means." Toward Attaining Beauty of Form." Mrs. Antrim stands high as a thinker and writer upon scientific subjects and her talk this morning will be a rare treat. It is a subject in which all the ladles are interested, and she will have a large audience of Atlanta ladies to hear her. Mrs. Antrim stands very high socially in Philadelphia, and personally is a very charming woman, as well as being a woman of extraordianry mental capacity Her talk this morning will be one of the features of the women's congresses.

A good part of the programme will be devoted to Mrs. Orelia Key Bell, Atlanta's popular poetess. Selections from her works will be recited and sung by the best recitationists and vocalists in the city. Mrs. W. C. Jarnigan, one of the most popular vocalists of the city, will sing "Persian Serenade," words by Miss Bell. This feature of itself will be one of the great attractions of the congress. Mrs. W. A. Hemphill, who as chairman of the exposition committee on professional work of women has labored so hard for the success of todaws congress, will

NOT POSTAL CARDS

Uncle Sam Has Been Greatly Annoyed by Souvenirs of the Exposition.

1 CENT NOT ENOUGH POSTAGE

Every Souvenir Card Must Have Two-Cent Stamp on It Else It Becomes a Dead Letter.

One of the most prolific sources of an noyance to the government, since the opening of the exposition, has been the encr mous quantity of postal cards, purporting to be souvenirs of the exposition, which have daily fooded the outgoing mails. These postal cards have not only disturbed the equanimity of Uncle Sam but they have played sad havoc with the busi-

Many parties who have written on these postal cards have wondered why no answers have been received from them. The explanation is simple enough; most of them have failed to reach their destina-

Thousands of these postal cards have been sold on the exposition grounds and elsewhere. They are beautiful specimens of artistic work and each is embellished with a picture of one of the exposition buildings. The appearance of the card is similar to that of an ordinary postal and ignorant parties are very easily misled by the supposition that a single one-cent stamp will carry the postal to the proper destination.

"The cards have wrought a great deal of mischief," said one of the officials yesterday afternoon, "and every mail that goes out adds fresh complications. It is true a common ordinary postal card only costs one cent, but that does not give any one the right to put a one-cent stamp on any kind of pasteboard and call it a postal card. The government claims the sole right to manufacture postal cards and this privilege is accorded to no one else. If a two-cent stamp is put on the souvenir cards they will go all right, but a one-cent ough to carry them.

Thousands Have Been Sold. Since the opening of the exposition thousands of these postal cards have been sold, and every visitor who comes to Atlanta seems to fall into the trap—if trap it may be called, since no real fraud is perpetrated. Between the 18th day of last month and the 1st of October 18,346 souvenir postal cards found their way into the postoffice. Two-thirds of this number have been sent to the dead letter office in Washington, on account of the re-fusal of parties to pay the additional postage and for other reasons. The record this month shows scarcely a diminution. Since the 1st of October 13, 371 souvenir cards bearing one-cent stamps have been received and the great majority of these have traveled the dead-letter route to Washington. Unless the sending of these postal cards is stopped it will operate to the injury of the exposition as well as to the parties more directly in-

The cards are perfectly good as souve-nirs and very ornamental, but in order to be used by letter writers they must bear a two-cent stamp and be treated as any other ordinary piece of pasteboard.

A half wine glass of Angostura Bitters before meals will restore the appetite, Manufactured only by Dr. J. G. B. Siegert & Sons. At all druggists.

English Bulldog Tactics Unpopular

Among Georgia's Citizens. Among Georgia's Citizens.

The enormous business in cut rate rallroad tickets being now carried on by the Atlanta Ticket Agency, 44 Wall street, opposite the Atlanta union depot, is substantial evidence that the bull-dog tactics of the English owners of one of Georgia's railroads are not in the interest of American citizens who like to travel cheaply. Tactics of a railroad company trying to brand people as thieves and robbers, who ride on brokers' tickets only drives independent citizens to patronizing other routes.

The supreme court of Georgia has established the right of property in the ownership of unused railroad tickets and the peopue of Georgia find that the Atlanta Ticket Agency is foremost in the philanthropic business of furnishing cheap transportation.
They pay good prices for unused railroad business of furnishing cheap transportation. They pay good prices for unused railroad tickets on all routes except the one on which the British lion shows his teeth to

We have had it during the past week, and it causes us to give Winter Clothing a serious thought. We have been seriously thinking during the past five months, and the result is one of the largest, finest. tastiest Clothing stocks the south has ever known. There's a world of comfort and dressiness in the collection of Overcoats we are showing. Winter Underwear in big assortment. Hats, Neckwear-but what's the use recounting; you know we have everything to complete the male wardrobe, and of the right sort. Come and see them.
